The way to bless God is to bless someone He loves. Bless someone in need.

~James Robison

Our hope will never be found in the efforts of man, but in Jesus Christ alone.

~James Robison

A new year reminds us that regardless of how often we fail or miss the mark, God freely offers opportunity to begin anew.

~James Robison

Don't hold on to religion and miss the joy of knowing Jesus.

~James Robison

Love is the greatest force on earth to resist, limit and ultimately halt evil's deadly progression.

~James Robison

God wants to give you victory, but He can only do it if you show up for the battle.

~James Robison

It is time for pastors, priests and all true believers to come out of the closet and stand for truth against the flood of evil.

~James Robison

If we have understanding, we can oversee the resources God entrusted to our care. And the wiser we are, the more effective we will be as stewards.

~James Robison

It's as though Trump has the charisma, the pied-piper effect, and could lead the whole nation off the cliff, and they would think they were on the way to Disney World.

~James Robison

All of us have weaknesses, but we also have strengths. God's Spirit has gifted each of us for the good of the church.

~James Robison

What do women want? To be treated like a queen; but by a king, not a pawn.

~James Robison

If we can know the beauty God is forming in us, we can bear the pain He allows in our lives.

~James Robison

God often uses our challenges as stepping stones to the higher purposes of God.

~James Robison

Jesus has given you the power to live as He lived, which is something no earthly teacher can do.

~James Robison

The American people don't need to just hear about the importance of the Constitution or the Bible. They have to understand that those principles are in their best interests.

~James Robison

We need a great president who can lead us through the great challenges we face.

~James Robison

It seems very obvious that a vast majority of the American people are sick and tired of political correctness and prevailing partisanship that does not serve the American people or freedom well.

~James Robison

Our vision is for pervasive computing.
