Can you dance?" she asked before she could stop herself. "I can," he said, affronted. "I'm really good with the slow songs.

~Jana Oliver

I love you Denver Beck," she whispered. "I have for a long time." Then she stepped back. "Now it's your turn to decide if you love me.

~Jana Oliver

â€ŽThe demon cried, waving its furry arms above his head like a demented orangutan.

~Jana Oliver

What about Beck?" "Backwoods Boy? Are you crazy? It'd be a threesome - me, him and his overbearing ego. Definitely doomed to failure.

~Jana Oliver

The End is Nigh!" the man shouted. "Is there still time for hot chocolate?" Riley asked. The-End-is-Nigh guy blinked. "Ah, maybe, I don't know.

~Jana Oliver

Don't start,â€• he warned. â€œWhat?â€• she said, grinning. â€œI'm sure all the big, bad trappers have a bun-bun in their houses.

~Jana Oliver

Simon had been all lined up and he'd managed to throw away the best girl he'd ever meet. â€œWhat a dumbass,â€• Beck muttered. â€œNo way I'd have done that.

~Jana Oliver

I can't face losin' ya, Riley. Yer all I got left in this world.â€• That brutal honesty again. He'd peeled away more armor, and this time he'd exposed his heart.

~Jana Oliver

She knew what he had in mind. He'll propose in Scotland on my birthday. There was no doubt as to what her answer would be.

~Jana Oliver

It was the kiss of a man who had waited years for the moment, and feared that it would never come again.

~Jana Oliver

I learned that the Holy Water better be fresh, that I need practice throwing the spheres, and that someone has to watch my back so asshats don't steal my demons.

~Jana Oliver

I could stay here forever." "But you won't." "Maybe I will.

~Jana Oliver

A soul is forged in the fires of adversity, not comfort.

~Jana Oliver

Ya called Fargo yet? • "No, I've been too busy trying to destroy the Guild and corrupt Simon's soul. Being evil is a full-time job.

~Jana Oliver

You can't carry the world on yer shoulders, broad as they are.

~Jana Oliver

What would you pack for Armageddon? Sunscreen and shades? Flame-proof underwear? Maybe a travel guide to the Underworld?

~Jana Oliver

What was the point of a sacrifice if it wasn't meant for the ones you loved?

~Jana Oliver

That was a kiss for the record books.

~Jana Oliver

I thought he worked for Heaven.' I thought I was in love.

~Jana Oliver

Libraries and demons," she muttered. "What is the attraction?

~Jana Oliver

Wow! It's like magic! she exclaimed. Simon shook his head. "It's God's love. That's stronger than any magic." - The Demon Trapper's Daughter

~Jana Oliver

Thanks. For everything. I mean it.' A slow grin edged onto his face. "You're worth it" Princess.' Her tennis show hit the door a second after it closed.

~Jana Oliver

You will be my downfall, Riley Blackthorne.

~Jana Oliver

Accept that I enjoy being with you. Accept that when I'm with you I see Heaven in your eyes.

~Jana Oliver

That's when she'd learned that male egos and fruit had a lot in common: Both bruised easily.

~Jana Oliver

Yes!' Beck crowed, pumping his fist into the air. "That rocks!" Then he charged off in search of another Three to decapitate. Riley sighed to herself. "I've created a monster.

~Jana Oliver

Here I am with a seriously hunky guy and I'm covered in demon pee. Why does the universe hate me?

~Jana Oliver

Girl? He pressed. The name is Riley, she shot back. Learn it. Use it!

~Jana Oliver

The next kiss deepened, became more urgent, needy. There was no space between them, and she could feel he enjoyed their closeness. Riley heard him moan and they reluctantly broke apart.

~Jana Oliver

Ya hafta be there for Beck. He only has you." Riley sighed. "I'll get the car.

~Jana Oliver

My name is Mortimer Alexander and I am a licensed summoner."
"Darn. I'd hoped you were the pizza delivery guy.

~Jana Oliver

Riley. How bad has it been?" "Just fabulous. The demonic kitten really made my night.

~Jana Oliver

Adults always acted like they could fix everything. But they can't. And they know it.
