It makes me upset, if not angry, when people assume that there can be no morality without a religious framework. If there's a moral framework without all that religious stuff, it's more valuable.

~Jane Asher

I swim more or less every day.

~Jane Asher

I try to be classic without being mumsy.

~Jane Asher

I've never particularly liked the idea of looking back; I'd rather look forward

~Jane Asher

I look at myself objectively and in a way I see myself as a commodity. Your name becomes somehow outside yourself. Now, when I'm at home being Mrs. Scarfe, that's when I'm most myself.

~Jane Asher

I know some actresses who used to be older than me who are now younger than me - I don't know how they do it.

~Jane Asher

I think one wants lots of different lives.

~Jane Asher

I think all good writing is a struggle. To write as well as you feel you can has to be a struggle, almost by definition, because you could always improve.

~Jane Asher

We get a lot of overseas people wanting to order cakes.

~Jane Asher

Listening to my regular favourites - Mozart, Beethoven, Brahms and so on - I always feel, quite misguidedly, that nothing can be too bad if such beauty and brilliance exists in the world.

~Jane Asher

The rehearsal time is almost my favourite part of being an actress, particularly if you're working on a play that hasn't been done before.

~Jane Asher

Of all the things I do, acting is the thing that grabs most, but there's another level on which it strikes me as being a little silly. In the end you're dressing up and deciding to be somebody.

~Jane Asher

My mum taught me that redheads shouldn't wear pink, red or orange, but if you choose the right shade, such as a bright orange or a cherry red, it can look fabulous.

~Jane Asher

As a child, I wanted to marry a farmer, but no doubt the reality would have been very different to the idyll in my head.

~Jane Asher

An actor's job is about putting across the author's intention; I don't think of myself on the same level as a creator.

~Jane Asher

I was always very determined, as was my husband, that we wouldn't let any of our children act when they were young.

~Jane Asher

I adore food and always have.

~Jane Asher

Spreadable butter is wonderful for cake-making: it's much easier to cream than the block type and slightly lighter because it's blended with oil.

~Jane Asher

I do enjoy fashion - a lot of runway clothes are pretty unwearable, but if moderated, the trends can be worn by just about anyone.

~Jane Asher

I learnt basic cookery by watching my mum.

~Jane Asher

I learned basic cookery from my mom, taught myself cake techniques and then got fed up with my own cakes not looking as good as the ones in the shops.

~Jane Asher

I am proud of my cake-making image but life is not that perfect. There are socks in my fruit bowl.

~Jane Asher

People ask what the secret of a happy marriage is. If there is one, it's 'don't talk about it.

~Jane Asher

I don't agree with the whole 'my mother's my friend' approach, because you're their mum and there has to be a difference between the generations.

~Jane Asher

Acting has been very useful to me.

~Jane Asher

I do find modern jazz quite tricky.

~Jane Asher

My parents were not theatrical at all.

~Jane Asher

I'm a creature of habit, so I like going to boutiques, rather than larger stores, where I know I'll find something that suits me every time.
