Every night is different, a ball of thread that unrolls differently.

~Jane Siberry

I'd probably be famous now if I wasn't such a good waitress.

~Jane Siberry

I think, because I'm an artist, part of my job is to be a barometer, an antenna. It's in the air and it resonates with a lot of people to lighten up.

~Jane Siberry

Music is gathering. Taking our scattered thoughts and senses and coalescing us back into our core. Music is powerful. The first few chords can change us where no self-help books can.

~Jane Siberry

It's all about consistency, and what makes a child or a dog secure: order, clarity - all those things.

~Jane Siberry

I'm not a household word. The climate for original music is always a bit difficult.

~Jane Siberry

I try to make my music have the quiet spaces of folk, the intimacy, and the energy of rock.

~Jane Siberry

Harmony is when the sum is greater than the parts. A happy exaggeration.

~Jane Siberry

I was raised on pop music. Anything classical ran together in a complicated blur.

~Jane Siberry

Hurry, conscious younger people! Get to power quickly so political decisions can be based on the greater good for all rather than the greater gain for few. Hurry, before it is too late!

~Jane Siberry

I've always loved acoustic music because I've always loved to hear someone's words or just watch them and just get into them. The distancing thing about rock is it's so assaulting.

~Jane Siberry

I think judgment is from within. It's not a God judging. Someone who is nasty - they're the one who has to sleep at night.

~Jane Siberry

Ultimately you understand there is order in the universe, even if there is no order in your immediate circumstances.

~Jane Siberry

You can't chop down a symmetry

~Jane Siberry

Music is all about training in harmony, training to understand and use musical energy for our greater pleasure by attuning to the natural laws of the universe.

~Jane Siberry

I felt old when I was young and I feel younger now. Maybe that's a trick of my mind, but I'm springier and lighter.

~Jane Siberry

It takes forever if you go by inertia.

~Jane Siberry

I found it stimulating to study the sciences. It was a side of understanding the universe that I hadn't been exposed to.

~Jane Siberry

Definitely I grew up listening to Joni Mitchell, and I think she is a wonderful writer, so she is probably part of me.

~Jane Siberry

I tell everyone a different story. That way nothing's ever boring, even when they turn and say goodbye.

~Jane Siberry

Though the night seems long, you're tears won't fall forever.

~Jane Siberry

I'd like to see the Second Coming in every one of us. That we all be Jesus. That we all embody that consciousness.
