Unfortunately, manipulation and defamation are part of the bad manners that have been prevailing in Poland's politics for ten years now.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

There is no "ruler" in our country. Poland is a democracy. Our Prime Minister leads the government; the President is fulfilling his tasks. But there is a little bit left for the party leader.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

We Poles are and will remain convinced Europeans. For us, Europe is a community of the diversity of nations. No mishmash.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

A single party is ruling in Hungary, but democracy and the freedom of speech are still in place.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

I would like to hear from Chancellor Merkel what she was thinking when opening the borders. I cannot imagine at all what it was.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

The Germans are indeed the economically and politically strongest power in Europe. But their superiority does not equal the past and present superiority of the Americans.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

The diversity of our cultures is Europe's greatest asset. We have to preserve this asset. And any political intervention that reduces this diversity is a loss to Europe.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

Who lent the Greeks the most money? It was German banks, and for a long time, they were profiting from it quite nicely.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

More or less Europe - that's the wrong alternative! What we need is less centralism.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

There cannot be a federal state of Europe without all citizens receiving the same benefits and rights.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

I do not have the right to vote in Germany. From a Polish perspective, I say: it would be good if Ms. Merkel were reelected.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

Primarily, Warsaw and Brussels share the central basic values of the EU: human dignity, democracy, and the religious freedom of every single human being. We believe in these values.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

Poland is a sovereign state. We want the same rights as all other EU countries. Nothing more, but nothing less, either.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

There might be many similarities between Erdogan and Putin. We can see that in the current developments, unfortunately. But Viktor Orban seriously does not fit in that list.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

In Poland, nobody is arrested or persecuted for political reasons.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski

Angela Merkel is the best solution for Poland.

~Jaroslaw Kaczynski
