All the birds love Touche Eclat. It's a (concealer) pen that gets rid of eye bags. But I'm quite happy otherwise. I train a lot.

~Jason Flemyng

I do jump behind the bar when we're really busy, but by that point I've usually drunk too much to work.

~Jason Flemyng

You'd phone or knock on the door of your friend or neighbour if they hadn't appeared at your local pub or bar for a few days, just to make sure they weren't dead in the cellar.

~Jason Flemyng

A lot of pubs in London are now faceless, expensive yuppy bars. Not like when I was growing up. The pub used to be, and should be, the pillar of community.

~Jason Flemyng

I live in jeans, mainly Wrangler and Nudie. I like them as dark blue as they'll go and tightly woven.

~Jason Flemyng

I'm into the whole skincare thing.

~Jason Flemyng

I'm ginger, so it's hard to rate me

~Jason Flemyng

I'm quite sexy - if you like gingers.

~Jason Flemyng

I've got the body of a model and the face of a coal miner.

~Jason Flemyng

I got up to all sorts of things when I was a kid, but I've managed to take the excessive alcohol and fast vehicle combination out of my life now.

~Jason Flemyng

Running has been great for keeping me fit throughout my acting career.

~Jason Flemyng

I'd love to play Neil Kinnock. Because of my ginger hair, I thought that was a possibility. He's a hero and a villain in most people's eyes, but I'd like to do that, I think I'd be right for it.

~Jason Flemyng

Strange people like chefs, musicians, and politicians affect me.

~Jason Flemyng

I do six or seven films a year in order to sustain my lifestyle.

~Jason Flemyng

I go into town every day on the tube. I've got an Oyster card.
