Imagination allows us to conceive of delightful future possibilities, pick the most amazing one, and pull the present forward to meet it.

~Jason Silva

Once we realize the extraordinary power we have to compose our lives, we'll move from passive, conditioned thinking to being co-creators of our fate.

~Jason Silva

To be inspired is the ultimate antidote to existential despair.

~Jason Silva

Ideas are powerful because they allow us to see the world as it could be, rather than what it is.

~Jason Silva

There's always going to be the circumstances you can't plan for. There's always the unexpected relevance and the serendipity.

~Jason Silva

Everything that we design is designing us back

~Jason Silva

We fit the universe through our brains and it comes out in the form of nothing less than poetry. We have a responsibility to awe.

~Jason Silva

I do NOT accept the ephemeral nature of this moment. I'm going to extend it FOREVER! Or at least I'm going to try.

~Jason Silva

For me, it's always a failure of the imagination. I have that anxiety that time is passing, that everything is ultimately fleeting and impermanent. I better take advantage of every single moment.

~Jason Silva

Awe is the best drug in the world

~Jason Silva

As technology continues to increase our possibilities, what we're seeing is a shrinking of the lag time between what we dream about and what we create.

~Jason Silva

We didn't stay in the caves. We haven't stayed on the planet. With biotechnology, gene sequencing, we are not going to even stay within the limitations of biology.

~Jason Silva

We are gods. Our tools make us gods. In symbiosis with our technology, our powers are expanding exponentially and so, too, our possibilities.

~Jason Silva

I think in a way, what it is to be human is to transcend our boundaries. That is the human story.

~Jason Silva

Film is the only technology that allows us to share subjectivity with someone else.

~Jason Silva

We are the Captains of Spaceship Earth...we have the capacity to overcome our limits.

~Jason Silva

If you could download the entire universe in two minutes, would you?

~Jason Silva

The camera is my means to internalize those fleeting epiphanies that I was having in my life.

~Jason Silva

Post-Scarcity Age, you don't pay for things. Abundance.

~Jason Silva

We are the naked monkey that went to the moon. People seem to forget that.

~Jason Silva

I am a child of the digital revolution. So what I love about digital content is the quick turnover rate.

~Jason Silva

The idea that we are the gods now, and we are doing things that our ancestors think are god-like is not a rhetorical question. You know what I mean? We really are as gods.

~Jason Silva

That's the case with these exponential technologies; our brains, they struggle with it. We live in a world that is global and exponential, and our brains evolved in a world that was linear and local.

~Jason Silva

My background is in like short form digital media, I call myself more of a digital filmmaker than anything else.
