You tend to think that there is a big gap between F1 and everything else. F1 is where all the fantastic drivers are, so you just don't know how good you are until you get there.

~Jean Alesi

Am I calm all the time? That is a question to ask my mother. I am very happy in my home. I have a good family, that gives me something extra.

~Jean Alesi

Give me a few bits of wool to stick on the car, a good gust of mistral wind, and I could come up with a better aerodynamic package on the bridge at Avignon

~Jean Alesi

Experience has taught me that you have to improve all the time-little bit by little bit-and not keeping starting everything from new.

~Jean Alesi

I am a professional. At the circuit I am calm. At home I am very different.

~Jean Alesi

I have never won a race, and that is my main disappointment - but you have to be positive.

~Jean Alesi

I lived in England to learn English. When I went to England for the first time, it was like being on the Moon. I had no friends, I couldn't speak the language. I was very isolated.

~Jean Alesi

To be honest, I am not happy about all the publicity.

~Jean Alesi

You never really know how quick you are before you reach F1.

~Jean Alesi

That was my dream, to drive for Ferrari, but I am not a kid any more. If Ferrari is the best team and if I get the chance to drive for Ferrari, it would be with pleasure.

~Jean Alesi

I made my choice to be in Ferrari. It is not easy because it is important for a man to have satisfaction. And for me to get the satisfaction I want means getting results.

~Jean Alesi

I think I will have a lot of opportunities in the future.

~Jean Alesi

When you are in a good position you are sure to drive well and to be very concentrated in each corner.

~Jean Alesi

I had a very good package for Phoenix, but at other tracks we do not have the power. The Brazilian Grand Prix was maybe closer to the reality.

~Jean Alesi

F1 teams need a driver who will consistently set lap times that are 100 percent on the edge.

~Jean Alesi

I am not close to retirement. I still have a lot more that I can achieve. There are younger guys coming into F1, but I am not old and I'm not finished.

~Jean Alesi

In the winter I was with Nelson Piquet. He was talking about his capacity to race faster. He said that he was still learning new things all the time.
