Be you writer or reader, it is very pleasant to run away in a book.

~Jean Craighead George

I love to travel, but when I really want to escape, I read a book.

~Jean Craighead George

I throw back my head, and, feeling free as the wind, breathe in the fresh mountain air. Although I am heavy-hearted, my spirits are rising. To walk in nature is always good medicine.

~Jean Craighead George

To be a writer you should read, write and talk to people, hear their knowledge, hear their problems. Be a good listener. The rest will come.

~Jean Craighead George

There is something all life has in common, and when I know what it is I shall know myself.

~Jean Craighead George

I just love the world around me and wanted my audience to love and appreciate it too.

~Jean Craighead George

That is the greatest gift my books have given me; what it means and has done for the kids.

~Jean Craighead George

Cat talk is a complicated, self-centered language. If you speak to your cat first, it probably won't speak back. Cats initiate conversations.

~Jean Craighead George

Chicken is Good! It tastes like chicken.

~Jean Craighead George

Cats ... are completely self-sufficient and can leave you at any time and go off and make a living. And yet cats can have warm and loving relationships with humans.

~Jean Craighead George

I love to write and I love the natural world. Everything I've written about I've found exciting and it has never left me at a loss for words. I've always just done what I love.

~Jean Craighead George

Most birds are geniuses. We had one that became a pet; he learned to talk, use tools and solve problems.

~Jean Craighead George

When fear seizes, change what you are doing. You are doing something wrong.
