Every few years I'll party way too much to remind myself what an idiot I am.

~Jeff Ament

I have to go someplace where I can soak myself in a creative atmosphere.

~Jeff Ament

When I moved to Seattle, I was hanging out with kids who had done drugs, had sex a million times. I look at them now and realize their childhood was taken away.

~Jeff Ament

With Pearl Jam, everybody is so good at what they do, it's hard to get up the courage to say, Can I sing this part, or, I want to play guitar. I feel like I have more courage to do that.

~Jeff Ament

Make movies. Don't make videos. Videos are evil.

~Jeff Ament

It was hard to figure out what were the good causes, the bad causes, even the good politics and the bad politics. So we started taking requests and figuring it out.

~Jeff Ament

This isn't a mass-produced...instrument. Mike Lull Custom Guitars makes each bass right here in the NW. Over 20 years of collaborating, designing, and building basses has gone into my model.

~Jeff Ament

I played djembe, percussion, keyboards and I sang.

~Jeff Ament

You go to a show and you know the crowd is there because they like the music, not because everybody else was going. That's a good feeling. You look out there and you know, these are our people.

~Jeff Ament

There really is a certain magic that happens when you're in the studio. And it's important in life to feel that magic: to feel that there is something greater moving all this along.

~Jeff Ament

Ever since I picked up a bass, I've written songs.

~Jeff Ament

I'm not going to say no to playing a show in Missoula.

~Jeff Ament

I've been interested in Eastern religions since I went to college because I was trying to figure out where I stood with Catholicism.

~Jeff Ament

It's great that people are basically spending their two weeks of vacation to come out and be with us in some weird part of the world. And I think we owe it to them to take 'em to some cool places.

~Jeff Ament

I love sad. Sadness makes you feel more than anything.
