Usually the things we think we need become the very things we need a break from.

~Jen Hatmaker

Be patient. Do the best with what you know. When you know more, adjust the trajectory.

~Jen Hatmaker

There are only 24 hours in a day. We need to quit trying to be awesome and instead be wise.

~Jen Hatmaker

We have this one life to offer; there is no second chance.

~Jen Hatmaker

Maybe we don't recognize satisfaction because it is disguised as radical generosity, a strange misnomer in a consumer culture.

~Jen Hatmaker

I won't defile my blessings by imagining that I deserve them. Until every human receives the dignity I casually enjoy, I pray my heart aches with tension and my belly rumbles for injustice.

~Jen Hatmaker

While the richest people on earth pray to get richer, the rest of the world begs for intervention with their faces pressed to the window, watching us drink our coffee, unruffled by their suffering.

~Jen Hatmaker

When the jars of clay remember they are jars of clay, the treasure within gets all the glory, which seems somehow more fitting.

~Jen Hatmaker

Obedience isn't a lack of fear. It's just doing it scared.

~Jen Hatmaker

For whatever reason I was born into privilege; I've never known hunger, poverty, or despair. I have been blessed, blessed, blessed--relationally, emotionally, spiritually, and physically.

~Jen Hatmaker

When we realize we can stop being Jesus defenders, we can start being Jesus representatives .

~Jen Hatmaker

For Jesus, who lived so lightly on this earth, He didn't even have a place to lay His head. I want so deeply to be like You.

~Jen Hatmaker

Adoption is an answer to a tragedy that has already happened, but may it never be the impetus for one that hasn't.

~Jen Hatmaker

A fast is not necessarily something we offer God, but it assists us in offering ourselves

~Jen Hatmaker

In so many ways I am the opposite of Jesus' lifestyle. This keeps me up at night. I can't have authentic communion with Him while mired in the trappings He begged me to avoid.

~Jen Hatmaker

Faith does not always demand that God explains Himself.

~Jen Hatmaker

Take something away, and your habits become clear.

~Jen Hatmaker

The gospel will die in the toxic soil of self.
