Especially while television I think is going through some growing pains or is in need of - I think current comedy is a bit, uh, not happening, you know?

~Jenna Elfman

Comedy is much more challenging, because you have to have the same level of belief but you have to make people laugh, and that's definitely a challenge.

~Jenna Elfman

There is such a thing as fate, but it only takes you so far. Then its up to you to make it happen.

~Jenna Elfman

I got good notice from that show, and on the last day of filming Townies, Twentieth Century Fox called wanting to meet with me about a development deal.

~Jenna Elfman

And you know, we did it as an independent film, and we weren't expecting it to be on television, and Lifetime ended up buying it. And the viewers responded intensely to that film.

~Jenna Elfman

In comedy, something may be more absurd, but you have to believe just as much as you do when you're doing drama.

~Jenna Elfman

There's a power in women being women. There's a role for men, but we don't have to be men, because we're women. I think that representing that on television is a cool thing.

~Jenna Elfman

AIDS is a state of mind, not a disease.

~Jenna Elfman

I'm not some big party chick, so it's not like I have to keep up my big social life.

~Jenna Elfman

And I'm so excited to remind people and even gain new fans who find out about Dharma - a new generation who could find out about Dharma and enjoy her and all the characters on the show.

~Jenna Elfman

I just think it's fun to remind people that good television has existed and it can exist again and just to give them pleasure and enjoy it and make them laugh.

~Jenna Elfman

I just kind of understood it, and I threw my love for others and love for life into the character, and was having a blast. I loved playing Dharma. I loved it!

~Jenna Elfman

Not hippie - my parents were not hippies - but they were very supportive and encouraging, and that does a lot for someone, and it gives them a lot of confidence.

~Jenna Elfman

I can't say I can foresee the future and tell the stars, you know. But I do have an understanding for my own reality, just elements and things that I've learned from.

~Jenna Elfman

I'll probably stick to comedy for the time being. I mean, a great piece of work is a great piece of work, and I'm up for good work anytime. But I do love comedy!

Yeah, I think the common denominator - and this is probably going to sound like Acting 101 - but the common denominator is belief in the character in the moment.

I [have] love for others and love for life.

~Jenna Elfman

And you don't want to just totally mess up the rhythm when you're playing with Bob Dylan.

~Jenna Elfman

The most memorable moment was playing drums with Bob Dylan.

~Jenna Elfman

It's such a pleasurable experience to look back, and all of the fun I had just comes rushing back.

~Jenna Elfman

Since I was born I wanted to entertain and communicate. I wanted to communicate so badly ... My sixth-grade math teacher taped my mouth. I'm still out to get her [for that]. It was very traumatizing!

~Jenna Elfman

I intend to make Scientology as accessible to as many people as I can.

~Jenna Elfman

If you get excited about something, it's totally okay to show it.

~Jenna Elfman

Sting! I mean, come on - whoe doesn't love Sting? Even if you love Megadeath, you have respect for Sting. If you love Pokemon, you'll find out who Sting is someday.

~Jenna Elfman

My motto is that I enjoy life. I think there's a kind of simplicity to that way of thinking.

~Jenna Elfman

Drama is not hard for me. It just didn't seem hard.

~Jenna Elfman

I want to go outside and play.
