United we stand, divided we fall is one of the oldest and truest slogans of the Labour movement.

~Jeremy Corbyn

What kind of city are we living in, if we encourage the development or ownership of large, expensive properties for investment and land banking... while people are sleeping on the streets?

~Jeremy Corbyn

Our Jewish friends are no more responsible for the actions of Israel or the Netanyahu government than our Muslim friends are for those of various self-styled Islamic states or organisations.

~Jeremy Corbyn

You should never be so high and mighty you can't listen to somebody else and learn something from them. Leadership is as much about using the ear as using the mouth.

~Jeremy Corbyn

I decided to invite Donald Trump on his visit to Britain to come with me to my constituency because he has problems with Mexicans and he has problems with Muslims.

~Jeremy Corbyn

I don't respond in any way to personal abuse that is thrown at me.

~Jeremy Corbyn

Sorry, but we live in a democracy and the Government has to be responsive to Parliament.

~Jeremy Corbyn

Why are we putting people who are already in a vulnerable position through this dreadful, appalling stress?

~Jeremy Corbyn

I would have set out very quickly the relationship with Europe.

~Jeremy Corbyn

The people of Aleppo have suffered like no one else for so long. There has to be a political solution.

~Jeremy Corbyn

My wife is Mexican and my constituency is very, very multicultural.

~Jeremy Corbyn

Legal aid... is fundamental to giving everybody in this country access to justice.

~Jeremy Corbyn

Labour Party members must all be free to criticise and oppose injustice and abuse wherever we find it.

~Jeremy Corbyn

If every human rights atrocity is described as a Holocaust,[Adolf] Hitler's attempted obliteration of the Jewish people is diminished or de-recognised in our history.

~Jeremy Corbyn

I'm not a dictator who writes things to tell people what to do.

~Jeremy Corbyn

Of course I want to be [prime minister].

~Jeremy Corbyn

I don't make personal abuse against anybody, I don't mind personal remarks.

~Jeremy Corbyn

I also recognise that the mandate was given by hundreds of thousands of ordinary people joining in the political process.

~Jeremy Corbyn

I believe in a democracy and we live in a democracy. We have a titular head of state as the monarch but without political power.

~Jeremy Corbyn

It is a ludicrous statistic plucked out of the air and used to justify a quite appalling attack on many of the poorest people in this country.

~Jeremy Corbyn

Of course I want to lead [Tory] party. Of course I want to lead this party in order to put forward an alternative and lead this party to win the election as soon as it comes.

~Jeremy Corbyn
