I love extreme sports, I like snowboarding and motorcross and rollerblading and hockey.

~Jeremy London

If I died snowboarding, you could honestly tell everybody in the world that Jeremy London died happy.

~Jeremy London

I can't deal with high maintenance chicks.

~Jeremy London

I used to be a hopeless romantic - I fell in love with everyone I went out with.

~Jeremy London

I'm gonna be the best dad that ever lived. I'll have a ranch with a race car track and a golf course.

~Jeremy London

Growing up, my brother and I were begging for attention.

~Jeremy London

I really got into the cricket and staying up late watching the World Cup.

~Jeremy London

I love the Valley. There's no attitude.

~Jeremy London

It's like Scott Wolf, I never thought he looked like Tom Cruise until somebody said it and now that they've said it, I see it every time I look at him!

~Jeremy London

My brother is an excellent songwriter, and I play guitar and drums.

~Jeremy London

Before the eighth grade, I probably went to seven or eight different schools.

~Jeremy London

I didn't go to college, I went straight from high school to working on I'll Fly Away, I was very, very lucky.

~Jeremy London

What I'd really like to give a try is cricket, because I grew up playing American baseball.

~Jeremy London

I don't need to hang out in a posse and try to act cool.

~Jeremy London

I don't think anybody should get married before they're 30. You're too young to really know yourself.

~Jeremy London

Right now music is more my outlet than acting, but I'm waiting for that one satisfying role.

~Jeremy London

I can't stand girls who laugh at everything I say like I'm the funniest guy in the world. I like girls who tell it like it is, no kissing up to me because I'm on TV.

~Jeremy London

I don't really lift weights. It's kind of a vanity thing that I don't get into.

~Jeremy London

I don't like characters that are left being jerks at the end of the movie.

~Jeremy London

A lot of people in my life are getting sick or potentially going to get sick from tobacco.

~Jeremy London

I've never dreamed of being famous. The idea of it really scares me.

~Jeremy London

If I am still doing what I'm doing and I still have respect in this town, haven't done anything completely and utterly stupid, then I'll be happy with myself.

~Jeremy London

And my little sister died when she was 16.

~Jeremy London

I was acting my way through the whole thing.

~Jeremy London

Most of my friends aren't actors - and not one of them is overly impressed with what I do.

~Jeremy London

I guess I get a little sentimental, but I'm so used to moving on and making myself stronger where that's concerned, otherwise I would just be a wreck!
