You are very familiar with Western ways, but you are too young. You go everywhere to follow the big news, but the questions you ask are too simple -- sometimes naive.

~Jiang Zemin

Talk politics, talk about study and talk positively.

~Jiang Zemin

It takes two hands to clap.

~Jiang Zemin

The Chinese government thinks China and the U.S. should develop a constructive relationship of cooperation.

~Jiang Zemin

History shows that anything conducive to our national stability is good.

~Jiang Zemin

China will continue to support the efforts of the Palestinian people to regain their legitimate rights, including the establishment of an independent state.

~Jiang Zemin

Naturally, in this period, there are also some ups and downs, and this is nothing strange.

~Jiang Zemin

It is not wise for Chinese to do things to artificially disrupt relations with the U.S.

~Jiang Zemin

The People's Liberation Army should play the role of shock troops, overcoming fatigue and sharpening vigilance to make new contributions.

~Jiang Zemin

No department or locality may, or will be allowed to, interfere in the affairs which should be administered by [the SAR] on its own.

~Jiang Zemin

Streamlining the army with Chinese characteristics is the right choice for China in military modernization.
