People always want reasons for things ... but sometimes there are no reasons.

~Jim James

You can drive at 16, go to war at 18, drink at 21, and retire at 65. So who can say what age you have to be to find your true love?

~Jim James

Don't let your silly dreams fall in between the crack of the bed and the wall.

~Jim James

Some things cannot be explained. This is part of the magic of life. There cannot be a word or an idea or a definition attached to everything.

~Jim James

I think that live music is something that the Internet can never kill.

~Jim James

Reading is one of the greatest forms of magic available to us on the planet.

~Jim James

Fashion is one of the most beautiful forms of art we have. It's a form of art that every person gets to possess and create for themselves.

~Jim James

I am very blessed to have a great group of long-term friends and a huge family that has been very loving and supportive. I try to stay connected to that and contribute as much as I can.

~Jim James

I feel lucky that I even have the luxury to write about feeling lonely or feeling confused. When you think about climate change that means that we won't have an Earth to be lonely on.

~Jim James

It is just so cool to play on the beach right next to the water. I am deeply moved by water as I think most people are - so to play music with it is a most powerful experience.

~Jim James

I think one's musical life should be free and open to new experience in order to keep expanding your mind and horizons.

~Jim James

I think it's every artist's dream to create something that will endure, something that people will listen to until there are no more people on earth to listen to things.

~Jim James

God forbid Donald Trump gets elected president; think about how many people are going to get fked over or how much harder we're going to have to fight for equality.

~Jim James

I wish we had a more open discourse. It's just a shame that with our 24-hour news media and the Internet, people have become so fragmented. They only want to support their own worldview.
