Sexiness wears thin after a while and beauty fades, but to be married to a man who makes you laugh every day, ah, now that's a real treat.

~Joanne Woodward

I'm going to get a new hairdo and look terrific and go back to school and even if nobody notices, I'm going to be the most self-fulfilled lady on the block.

~Joanne Woodward

Intensity is so much more becoming in the young.

~Joanne Woodward

I used to be neurotic. I didn't like myself very much. But somewhere in my mid-40s, my neuroses stopped seeming so important. I developed a sense of humor.

~Joanne Woodward

Acting is a child's prerogative. Children are born to act. Usually, people grow up and out of it. Actors always seem to me to be people who never quite did grow out of it.

~Joanne Woodward

It is upsetting that many people don't seem to observe what's happening to the environment, what's happening in terms of global warming, the loss of habitats and wild things.

~Joanne Woodward

I'm a risk-taker. I like to test myself.

~Joanne Woodward

My hope for the planet is my children and grandchildren.

~Joanne Woodward

Acting is like sex. You should just do it and not talk about it.

~Joanne Woodward

There can be no one best way of organizing a business.

~Joanne Woodward

My daughter, the one who lives nearby, is raising her children to be very much aware. We went on a nature walk on Monday; I'm learning so much from her.

~Joanne Woodward

I remember when I first won the Academy Award, and how much I loved it. I just wish there was an award around that you could really believe in again.
