Our pictures are our footprints. It's the best way to tell people we were here.

~Joe McNally

Don't pack up your camera until you've left the location.

~Joe McNally

Always remember to make room to shoot what you love. It's the only way to keep your heart beating as a photographer.

~Joe McNally

You've gotta taste the light, like my friend and fellow shooter Chip Maury says. And when you see light like this, trust me, it's like a strawberry sundae with sprinkles.

~Joe McNally

Unpredictability. Accidents. Not good when you're engaging in, say, brain surgery, but when lighting...wonderful!

~Joe McNally

The most important piece of equipment in your bag is your attitude

~Joe McNally

If you're not having fun, your pictures will reflect that.

~Joe McNally

A career in photography is a journey without a destination.

~Joe McNally

If you view your life as a piece of fabric or a tapestry, the photography is the stitching. It keeps everything together.

~Joe McNally

John Loengard, the picture editor at Life, always used to tell me, "If you want something to look interesting, don't light all of it.

~Joe McNally

To me, pictures are about memory.

~Joe McNally

When shooting a story about someone, their hands should always be on your list to shoot.

~Joe McNally

The camera's not a camera, really. It's an open door we need to walk through. It's up to us to keep moving our feet.

~Joe McNally

I can't tell you how many pictures I've missed just 'cause I've been so hell bent on getting the shot I think I want.
