â€œTo go where you're wishing you could go, first you must tie your shoes and step off the porch.

~John Avery

Learn to put your troubles in your pocket, then leave them there when you do your laundry.

~John Avery

Relationships are like apples: they can be sweet and satisfying. But once you bite into a bad one, it's hard to go back to the barrel again.

~John Avery

â€œLive the truth and everything else will fall into place.

~John Avery

Don't judge people you don't know. You have no idea what they've been through, and you may waste an opportunity to make a new friend.

~John Avery

â€œLife is a series of highs and lows. The trick is to tip the balance in your favor by following your heart and taking some risks.

~John Avery

As we age, the bright light of youth either burns out or burns stronger - it's our choice.

~John Avery

The only thing worse than women are women who tell me I'm a misogynist.

~John Avery

Point your feet in the direction you want to go and your life will follow.

~John Avery

Try saying hello to someone who wouldn't expect you to - today would be good.

~John Avery

If finding true love was easy we'd all have a lot more free time.

~John Avery

Success is doing the best you possibly can with what you've been given. There are an alarming number of wealthy failures in the world today.

~John Avery

After a hard day, try to think of something good about it before you go to sleep - the result may surprise you.

~John Avery

Why waste precious time and energy trying to be someone you're not when you can put it to much better use simply being yourself?

~John Avery

I'm not supposed to know what's going on. But I can tell you this, I won't be standing around scratching my head like Coach Johnson in that Denorex commercial.

~John Avery

Be who you were born to be - it's what living things do.

~John Avery

Most people who succeed in life have no clue that what they are trying to achieve is impossible.

~John Avery

People who believe in ghosts think that dead people can walk through locked doors. Nonsense - they have to use a key like the rest of us.

~John Avery

Some people burn all of their energy helping themselves, while some use all of it helping others. The happiest among us do a little of both.

~John Avery

While you're busy chasing your dream, don't forget to leave time for living - it's way too easy to run straight past what's truly important.

~John Avery

Take a step toward your dream today. No matter how tiny the step, it will give you the energy and desire to take another.

~John Avery

To never aspire to excellence means to never fully comprehend the amount of work required to achieve it.

~John Avery

â€œWhen suddenly you find yourself on the wrong highway, perhaps it's time for a new job, or some new friends. It's your life - live it.

~John Avery

When chasing a dream, make sure the price is truly worth paying - if it is, go for it, if not, tweak your dream a little and then go for it.

~John Avery

When the road you're on begins to crumble, forge ahead - better it crumble behind you than ahead of you.
