The roots of effective leadership lie in simple things, one of which is listening. Listening to someone demonstrates respect; it shows that you value their ideas and are willing to hear them.

~John Baldoni

Heroism is not blind courage: it is selfless action. It is knowing the odds are stacked against you, but feeling that you must do what you do for the good of others.

~John Baldoni

The words a leader speaks are important, of course. But how they're delivered can make all the difference, especially in tough times.

~John Baldoni

Leadership is an active, living process. It is rooted in character, forged by experience, and communicated by example.

~John Baldoni

Three things a leader or manager should be thinking: What's happening? What's not happening? and What can I do to influence the outcome?

~John Baldoni

People who believe in themselves and in a cause greater than themselves can achieve great things—as long as they have a well-intentioned leader to point them in the right direction.

~John Baldoni

Solution = Conflict + Collaboration

~John Baldoni

Communication comes with practice. As a leader you must speak the truth; listen for understanding; and learn from what you hear and do not hear.

~John Baldoni

Leadership is the behavior each of us exerts when we take responsibility for our actions and their consequences.

~John Baldoni

Focusing on one's own purpose is a matter of considering what you want to do, why you want to do it, and how you will do it. Easy questions, but they do provide deep thought.

~John Baldoni

Leadership embraces activism; it is the outcome of a purposeful pursuit of goals.
