The Macintosh uses an experimental pointing device called a 'mouse.'
There is no evidence that people want to use these things.

~John C. Dvorak

In all large corporations, there is a pervasive fear that someone, somewhere is having fun with a computer on company time. Networks help alleviate that fear.

~John C. Dvorak

When I hit Ctrl-Alt-Delete, I see that the System Idle Process is hogging all the resources and chewing up 95 percent of the processor's cycles. Doing what? Doing nothing?

~John C. Dvorak

People are only concerned about the next party, meeting up for casual sex, finding a job as a Web page designer, or getting a new apartment.

~John C. Dvorak

The right to be a journalist is part of the Bill of Rights.

~John C. Dvorak

Intelligence is like good taste. If you don't have it, you don't miss it.

~John C. Dvorak

I hate to use that term [iPad Killer] since the iPad is probably dead anyway.

~John C. Dvorak

Make a faster machine and people will flock to inefficient software.

~John C. Dvorak

If time means nothing to you, then surf the Web.

~John C. Dvorak

If Apple has a flaw, it's the inability of the company to crush competition using the kind of aggressive tactics that companies like Microsoft and Intel have always applied.

~John C. Dvorak

Nobody can deny that Apple is fashionable, and most iPhone users buy the newest so they can be fashionable. To do this right, Apple needs a new phone every quarter.

~John C. Dvorak

As for my prediction that this phone would be a bad idea for Apple to pursue, anything can still happen. Time is a cruel mistress.

~John C. Dvorak

The tablet market has only succeeded as a niche market over the years and it was hoped Apple would dream up some new paradigm to change all that. From what I've seen and heard, this won't be it.
