We spend so much of our early lives trying to figure out who we really are. And we spend the rest of our lives preparing ourselves to let it go.

~John Cameron Mitchell

There is such a reluctance to address sex as an inherent part of the human experience in this country... The true perversion to me is crushing it and hiding it.

~John Cameron Mitchell

Nature is a series of murders.

~John Cameron Mitchell

Ibsen, Chekhov, Shakespeare, and Beckett to me are the most revolutionary.

~John Cameron Mitchell

I love when a director says, "I don't know."

~John Cameron Mitchell

Kids' literature now is dystopian, you know.

~John Cameron Mitchell

The bigger the budget, the more trouble there is.

~John Cameron Mitchell

It seems like there'd be no Donald Trump without the internet, first of all. He's a tweeter, which is basically just a bullhorn.

~John Cameron Mitchell

I spent a lot of time with making sure everyone felt wanted.

~John Cameron Mitchell

I love British female directors lately.

~John Cameron Mitchell

I feel like a goddamn hippie, I tell you.

~John Cameron Mitchell

I'm going to go wherever I'm needed.
