I am a Korean War veteran. I support our troops as much as anyone in this body, but I do so by advocating redeployment out of Iraq as soon as it can be safely done.

~John Conyers

It's not enough for women to speak out on the issue - for the message to be strong and consistent, women's voices must be backed up by men's.

~John Conyers

If we want to build the Iraqis' confidence about our intentions in their country, if we want to stop adding fuel to the fire of insurgency and terrorism, we must clarify our intent.

~John Conyers

Once the violence has ceased, the US should immediately call on the World Bank and other international institutions to convene a donors conference to rebuild Lebanon's shattered infrastructure.

~John Conyers

Stealing has always been a way of redistributing wealth.

~John Conyers

According to recent opinion polls, a large majority of Iraqis believe that the U.S. military has no intention to leave Iraq, and that it would stay even is asked by the Iraqi government to leave.

~John Conyers

Every few generations there are people who come along that change the way we look at the world, for musical enthusiasts Monk is one of these individuals.

~John Conyers

A day of peace and sharing can lead to greater understanding and cooperation among political parties, faith groups, and people of different races and economic class.

~John Conyers

The time is now for Congress to address health care in America.

~John Conyers

Too many of my constituents, like many other hard working Americans across the country, are suffering unnecessarily due to our flawed health care system.

~John Conyers

The Republicans claim they are for strengthening Pell grants when the truth is that over the last four years, their legislation has done the exact opposite.

~John Conyers

Custodial education does not have as its objective the education of youth but rather social control over them. It suppresses rather than stimulates their intellectual and physical energies.

~John Conyers

Just as outlawing alcohol did not work in the 1920s, current attempts to prohibit online gambling will not work, either.

~John Conyers

We must ensure that these acts of terror do not accomplish in a slow burn what the fires of the World Trade Center and Pentagon could not - subversively destroying the foundation of our democracy.

~John Conyers

Some of the ideas that come from the fringe of the far right are just so implausible that it is hard to take those ideas seriously.

~John Conyers

The Republicans have chosen to neglect young Americans who need assistance with the costs of higher education.

~John Conyers

There is no better illustration of that crisis than the fact that the president is openly violating our nation's laws by authorizing the NSA to engage in warrantless surveillance of U.S. citizens.

~John Conyers

For decades, the violence in the Middle East has claimed a multitude of innocent civilian victims: Men, women and children, Arab and Israeli.

~John Conyers

We all agree that manufacturers have a right to ensure that fake goods are not marketed in their names and that their own goods are not marketed under fake names.

~John Conyers

When it comes to civilian deaths, violent hostilities play no favorites.

~John Conyers

My friends in the Congress, I have known Coretta King since I went south during the civil rights movement as a lawyer. She was a vibrant, consistent, totally dedicated partner with her husband.

~John Conyers

We should not take a Memorial Day recess until we pass a proper memorial for the slain students in Littleton, Colorado, and other school gun tragedies.

~John Conyers

If we quickly cast aside our constitutional form of government, then the enemy will not be the terrorists, it will be us.

~John Conyers

Violence against judges and threats of violence against Judges is on the rise and it is no laughing matter. When leaders attempt to rationalize this violence, it only makes the problem worse.
