Then join hand in hand, brave Americans all! By uniting we stand, by dividing we fall.

~John Dickinson

Most men with nothing would rather protect the possibility of becoming rich than face the reality of being poor.

~John Dickinson

The power of the people pervading the proposed system, together with the strong confederation of the states, will form an adequate security against every danger that has been apprehended.

~John Dickinson

Experience must be our only guide. Reason may mislead us.

~John Dickinson

Let us take care of our rights and we therein take care of our prosperity. Slavery is ever preceded by sleep

~John Dickinson

The rights essential to happiness. . . . We claim them from a higher source - from the King of kings and Lord of all the earth.

~John Dickinson

Our cause is just. Our union is perfect.

~John Dickinson

If the General Government should be left dependent on the State Legislatures, it would be happy for us if we had never met in this room.

~John Dickinson

Government has hardened into a tyrannical monopoly, and the human race in general becomes as absolutely property as beasts in the plow.

~John Dickinson

What concerns all, should be considered by all; and individuals may injure a whole society, by not declaring their sentiments. It is therefore not only their right, but their duty, to declare them.
