I have made the most important discovery of my career, the most important discovery of my life: It is only in the mysterious equations of love that any logic or reasons can be found.

~John Forbes Nash

Classes will dull your mind, destroy the potential for authentic creativity.

~John Forbes Nash

People are always selling the idea that people with mental illness are suffering. I think madness can be an escape. If things are not so good, you maybe want to imagine something better.

~John Forbes Nash

As you will find in multivariable calculus, there is often a number of solutions for any given problem.

~John Forbes Nash

Rationality of thought imposes a limit on a person's concept of his relation to the cosmos.

~John Forbes Nash

Though I had success in my research both when I was mad and when I was not, eventually I felt that my work would be better respected if I thought and acted like a 'normal' person.

~John Forbes Nash

In a dream it's typical not to be rational.

~John Forbes Nash

In madness, I thought I was the most important person in the world.

~John Forbes Nash

There are things that tend to moderate with age. Schizophrenia is somewhat like that.

~John Forbes Nash

To some extent, people who are insane are nonconformists, and society and their family wish they would live what appear to be useful lives.

~John Forbes Nash

It's better to be dead, or even perfectly well, than to suffer from the wrong affliction. The man who owns up to arthritis in a beri-beri year is as lonely as a woman in a last month's dress.

~John Forbes Nash

Nowadays we can do computer experiments using Mathematica, and even solve a system of 42 equations. This offers another route to knowledge, rather than mere ideas.

~John Forbes Nash

I later spent... five to eight months in hospitals in New Jersey, always on an involuntary basis, and always attempting a legal argument for release.

~John Forbes Nash

I never saw my grandfather because he had died before I was born, but I have good memories of my grandmother and of how she could play the piano at the old house.
