

John Harvey Kellogg

Quotes

Science, Men, Believe, Food, Coffee, Lying, Vegetarianism, Hands, Evil, Roots, Disease, Simple, Want, Use, Life, Alcohol, Different, Progress, Europe, Slavery

I am, I think the only surviving member of the original Battle Creek church. The church was disbanded, with the exception of thirteen members, in 1870.

~John Harvey Kellogg

A dead cow or sheep lying in a pasture is recognized as carrion. The same sort of a carcass dressed and hung up in a butcher's stall passes as food.

~John Harvey Kellogg

Disease is cured by the body itself, not by doctors or remedies.

~John Harvey Kellogg

I believe the Sabbath; I keep the Sabbath.

~John Harvey Kellogg

When we eat vegetarian foods, we needn't worry about what kind of disease our food died from; this makes a joyful meal!

~John Harvey Kellogg

A man that lives on pork, fine-flour bread, rich pies and cakes, and condiments, drinks tea and coffee, and uses tobacco, might as well try to fly as to be chaste in thought.

~John Harvey Kellogg

The power in which we must have faith if we would be well, is the creative and curative power which exists in every living thing.

~John Harvey Kellogg

All fresh meat is eaten in a state of decay. The process may not have proceeded so far that the dull human nose can discover it, but a carrion bird or a carrion fly can smell it from afar.

~John Harvey Kellogg

The tobacco business is a conspiracy against womanhood and manhood. It owes its origin to that scoundrel Sir Walter Raleigh, who was likewise the founder of American slavery.

~John Harvey Kellogg

The influence of coffee in stimulating the genital organs is notorious.

~John Harvey Kellogg

Hamburger steak is carrion, and quite unfit for food except by a turkey buzzard, a hyena, or some other scavenger.

~John Harvey Kellogg

You cannot work with men who won't work with you.

~John Harvey Kellogg

Is God a man with two arms and legs like me? Does He have eyes, a head? Does He have bowels? Well I do, and that makes me more wonderful than He is!

~John Harvey Kellogg

Then, after I came home from Europe, I found I was under condemnation; and I was condemned at that time because I did not endorse the financial policy of the General Conference.

~John Harvey Kellogg

If you can get some of the devil's money to use for the Lord's work, if you have to borrow it, it is all right and carry on the work.

~John Harvey Kellogg

There are any number of people who profess to be good Christian people who are willing to believe all kinds of things on suspicion. Now that is not the way the Bible directs for Christian people to do

~John Harvey Kellogg

Do you know, that is the root of the whole trouble - has been one of the roots at any rate - is people hearing things and then imagining some more and magnifying it and multiplying it.

~John Harvey Kellogg

I believe that the end of things man-made cannot be very far away - must be near at hand.

~John Harvey Kellogg

I don't want you to misunderstand me. You might get up and state what you believe to be Seventh-day Adventism, and I might not agree with everything you said.

~John Harvey Kellogg

To please men and to kill parasites are the only uses tobacco-its ultimate effects are the same in both cases.

~John Harvey Kellogg

I believe in the unconscious state of the mind in death.

~John Harvey Kellogg

Related Links:

- Science Quotes
- Men Quotes
- Believe Quotes
- Food Quotes
- Coffee Quotes
- Lying Quotes
- Vegetarianism Quotes
- Hands Quotes
- Evil Quotes
- Roots Quotes
- Disease Quotes
- Simple Quotes
- Want Quotes
- Use Quotes
- Life Quotes
- Alcohol Quotes
- Different Quotes
- Progress Quotes
- Europe Quotes
- Slavery Quotes