No one can ever take my job away from me. I can always draw as long as I have a piece of paper and a pencil or paints.

~John Newman

Reports in matters of this world are many, and our resources of mind for the discrimination of them very insufficient

~John Newman

I was a big rugby player and into my motocross, so I lost loads of weight and a rumor went around the town that I had picked up a drug addiction!

~John Newman

Before this I tended to paint figures and put them in an environment. Now I paint an environment to put figures in. It's a subtle difference, but it is a difference. It's something I did naturally.

~John Newman

American liberty is premised on the accountability of free men and women for what they have done, not for what they may do.

~John Newman

Living movements do not come out of committees.

~John Newman

People keep comparing me to people, and I just ignore it.

~John Newman

I don't want to date celebrities, I don't want to roll out of clubs absolutely steaming, make an idiot out of myself. I want to concentrate on my music career.

~John Newman

If I'm not busy I start twiddling my thumbs.

~John Newman

Doctors can predict these things [tumors] just as long as they get access to people.

~John Newman

Now I've got that [life is a journey not a destination] tattooed on my arm because it just reminds me of that time, and I think it's just an amazing quote.

~John Newman

I went and studied music in Leeds. It really woke me up socially, to stop being so naïve and narrow-minded.

~John Newman

I'm still quite small-minded and small-town, and people look at me like, "You're too famous to remember me." I want to give them a tap on the shoulder and thank them.

~John Newman

I do like expressing how I feel about things in my music.

~John Newman

I'm from a little town called Settle in North Yorkshire, so it's amazing that I get to travel everyday and I get to see such crazy sh*t everyday.

~John Newman

All good art is abstract.

~John Newman

I don't get pictures taken of me when I leave clubs.
