The UK downgrade will come as little surprise to many. It does not appear to be occurring because the UK is cutting its deficit too far and too fast.

~John Redwood

The library is seen as a force for self improvement and the pursuit of knowledge. I fear that in many cases this is no longer true, if it ever was.

~John Redwood

The Conservative Party is a tax cutting party or it is nothing.

~John Redwood

The EU will not stop wars: it wants an army to fight them.

~John Redwood

We need to remind our core supporters that we have not forgotten their concern with the way our democracy is being replaced by European bureaucracy in so many areas.

~John Redwood

Young men do not want to have to take a consent form and a lawyer on a date, just as young women have every right to go on a date and to say 'No', having it respected.

~John Redwood

No change, no chance.

~John Redwood

Europe is my continent, not my country

~John Redwood

The EU project is to create a country called Europe.

~John Redwood

I have more government than I want, more government than I need, more government than I can afford.

~John Redwood

There aren't many fathers around here...If someone is old enough to father a child, he should be old enough to help bring it up.

~John Redwood

Labour's constitutional blueprint is nothing less than a plan for the destruction of UK democracy.

~John Redwood

What the study I chaired actually said was we needed tougher regulation of cash and capital in banks, as credit was too easy. Events proved that right.

~John Redwood

Conservatism must be based on allowing everyone to become an owner - equity for everyman.

~John Redwood

You have to be very rich to afford Labour, with 66 tax rises since they came in power.

~John Redwood

There is no point in saving the currency if we lose the country that goes with it.
