It worries me about our unwillingness to really address reforms and modernization in Medicare. This thing was designed 37 years ago. It has not evolved to keep pace with current medical technology.

~John Sununu

Don't let that weapon technology proliferate. Don't let Saddam Hussein get capability for nuclear or chemical weapons, because he's already shown a willingness to use any weapon at his disposal.

~John Sununu

Let individuals create real wealth, empower them, create something that they can leave for their children.

~John Sununu

Bureaucrats behave very differently than a private-sector manager because their motivations are different. Permanent bureaucrats, no matter how senior, worry about their next job.

~John Sununu

People in New Hampshire know that I'll talk thoughtfully, substantively about any issue.

~John Sununu

The American formula for creating business is not to have the government create business.

~John Sununu

If you wait until those weapons pose a direct, clear, present danger to the United States, you've probably waited too long.

~John Sununu

Nothing panics politicians like $4 a gallon gas.

~John Sununu

It's good to give seniors more choices and more options, let them choose a plan that's best for them and target assistance to the lowest income people.

~John Sununu

Simply put, broadband voice is an interstate matter that must be dealt with through clear national standards.

~John Sununu

Mitt Romney has made it clear that he believes that President Obama was born in the U.S.

~John Sununu

Defining marriage is a power that should be left to the states. Moreover, no state should be forced to recognize a marriage that is not within its own laws, Constitution, and legal precedents.

~John Sununu

You walk into any supermarket or any shopping mall and ask the public what they are worried about. Not one of them will tell you they are worried about 12 years of Mitt Romney's tax returns.

~John Sununu

As a boy, when I was bad, my mother would chew me out in Spanish. And since I was bad a lot, I learned a lot of Spanish!

~John Sununu

I understand the process of politics and the game of television.

~John Sununu

I'm an old man of 73, and I've been around a long time. If I don't know something by now, I probably never will.

~John Sununu

I'm running for senator because it's time for a change.

~John Sununu

Politicians wishing to set a better tone should have the discipline to avoid televised cage matches.

~John Sununu

We'll always have bureaucracies, but bureaucracies led by bureaucrats might be too much of a bad thing.

~John Sununu

The principal role of the President of the United States is the security of the country and participating in trying to stabilize the world.

~John Sununu

Shakespeare would never have gone far in today's politically correct world.

~John Sununu

Political pandering comes in all shapes and sizes, but every four years the presidential primary bring us in contact with its purest form - praising ethanol subsidies amid the corn fields of Iowa.

~John Sununu

It doesn't take Warren Buffett to realize that when companies don't know what new rules will look like, it affects their ability to commit capital and create new jobs.
