Wealth can only be accumulated by the earnings of industry and the savings of frugality.

~John Tyler

I contend that the strongest of all governments is that which is most free.

~John Tyler

The institutions under which we live, my countrymen, secure each person in the perfect enjoyment of all his rights.

~John Tyler

So far as it depends on the course of this government, our relations of good will and friendship will be sedulously cultivated with all nations.

~John Tyler

I can never consent to being dictated to.

~John Tyler

Popularity, I have always thought, may aptly be compared to a coquette - the more you woo her, the more apt is she to elude your embrace.

~John Tyler

Here lies the body of my good horse, The General. For years he bore me around the circuit of my practice and all that time he never made a blunder. Would that his master could say the same.

~John Tyler

It was hard graft all the way and a good result in the end.
