The science fiction I write comes from a pretty deep pool of literature, not just from the reflection of other science fiction films, and I think that gives me somewhat deeper roots.

~Jon Spaihts

Space and spacecraft and zero gravity and so forth are very difficult to render.

~Jon Spaihts

When a new writer comes onto a project, he'll make wholesale changes just to mark the territory or for greater credit.

~Jon Spaihts

I never stopped loving the deeper sciences, and I read as deeply into lay science as I can.

~Jon Spaihts

I try to keep up, and the scientific perspective is always part of my creative approach.

~Jon Spaihts

I'd wanted to be a writer since I was knee-high. Once I knew that books were written by people and didn't just happen, it was obviously that I would write them, too.

~Jon Spaihts

Directing offers you the hope that your vision will reach the screen, unmolested and intact. Therefore, it's tantalizing to all writers.

~Jon Spaihts

It is true that, with TV, a writer gets a great deal more respect.

~Jon Spaihts

For a successful writer, the secret is to have many irons in the fire.

Write the next thing.

~Jon Spaihts

You don't control whether your movies get made. You can't. All you can control is whether your draft is great. So, you write your great draft, as best as you can, and then move on to the next thing.

~Jon Spaihts

Making the right choices on the worlds we explore is going to be our biggest challenge.

~Jon Spaihts

I mean that much more than wiser beings from beyond the stars bringing us enlightenment or death or salvation, we are likely to find ourselves the wisest beings on the scene.

~Jon Spaihts

The world may hold startling developments and shocking unknowns.

~Jon Spaihts

An X-wing fighter flies like an airplane. If you look at the physics, it's actually quite impossible.

~Jon Spaihts

Real space movies have to involve zero gravity and a world without up or down.

~Jon Spaihts

I would say that working with Ridley Scott makes the process of directing much more terrifying.

~Jon Spaihts

You want the mystical understanding of the cosmos to feel compatible with a scientific understanding of the cosmos, like it extends our understanding rather than unwriting it.

~Jon Spaihts

You want magic to feel real.
