There are a lot of limitations so you have to ultimately focus on what you think the most important storyline is.

~Joseph Kosinski

As a director, if you know what you want, then it's not scary.

~Joseph Kosinski

The movies I make and my interests are always about pushing the technology as far as we can in support of telling great stories and showing an audience things they haven't seen before.

~Joseph Kosinski

I was always looking for a career that could combine my creative interests with my technical side, and it ends up directing films is the perfect combination.

~Joseph Kosinski

Certainly there's pressure while your making the movie.

~Joseph Kosinski

For me the Blu-ray version is kind of the definitive version of the movie.

~Joseph Kosinski

Obviously, there are lots of lessons to be learned on a first movie.

~Joseph Kosinski

I think that while you're making the film it's important to just keep your eye on the ball and make the best movie you can, and then realize that it's out of your control.

~Joseph Kosinski

Any film is a collaborative process, you've got thousands and thousands of people working on it.

~Joseph Kosinski

It's important to listen to those around you, and ultimately you have to decide which path you're going to go down.

~Joseph Kosinski

You never want to intentionally make a confusing movie.

~Joseph Kosinski

I always had some kind of creative side and technical side, and I thought architecture might be the way to combine them, so I went to architecture school in New York.

~Joseph Kosinski

Tom [Cruise] is a great producer himself. He's got great sense of story. It's always great to have the perspective of the person who's playing the character in your film.

~Joseph Kosinski

I think some people are under the impression that you can simply just shoot it on blue, and then it's all done in post. But no, you really need to understand the pipeline, from beginning to end.

~Joseph Kosinski

In a science fiction movie, the first act is a little longer than it is in most movies because there is so much world building to do.

~Joseph Kosinski

You never watch movies the same as you do when you're a kid, ever again.

~Joseph Kosinski

I think the excitement of movies is discovering stuff you weren't expecting, and I hope to preserve that.

~Joseph Kosinski

Once I got out of architecture school I decided not to be an architect, I just started my own little design studio.

~Joseph Kosinski

For me, I feel like, between 'Tron' and 'Oblivion,' I've gotten to fulfill my 'Star Wars' fantasies, in a way.

~Joseph Kosinski

I love movies that ask big questions but don't necessarily answer everything. I like people walking out thinking about something.

~Joseph Kosinski

Disney's clearly in the business of doing giant tent pole movies based on properties that they own. And that's what they should be doing because they're great at doing that.

~Joseph Kosinski

I'm a huge electronic-music fan.

~Joseph Kosinski

I don't think every movie should be made in 3-D, and it should depend on whether it's one of these films that's more immersive or needs to be taken to another world. I'm interested in other formats.

~Joseph Kosinski

Of course there are always exceptions, but opinions are not to be feared.

~Joseph Kosinski

That's the tricky thing these days: being able to surprise people.

~Joseph Kosinski

Listen, whatever makes the movie better. That's the attitude you have to have.

~Joseph Kosinski

I don't wear glasses, so I like the idea of not having to put them on to watch a movie. It's a hard barrier to get beyond.

~Joseph Kosinski

You won't believe how many people have congratulated me around the world for shooting a movie in 2D. It's bizarre. It's the strangest thing.

~Joseph Kosinski

Technology can do amazing things for us. It's something we need to keep an eye on.

~Joseph Kosinski

The commercial music video industry is very hard to break into, and until you break in, that first job is the hardest thing in the world to get.

~Joseph Kosinski

I grew up in a place where no one knew anyone in the entertainment business, I never knew it was an actual career.

~Joseph Kosinski

I'd like to have the script in a much better place from day one of shooting, rather than trying to continue to work on it while you shoot it. I think those are lessons you learn on any film.
