Sunrises and sunsets are real jerks about putting things in perspective.

~Josh Lieb

You don't have to be a genius when you're surrounded by morons.

~Josh Lieb

It doesn't pay to be good at something unless you are the absolute best at it.

~Josh Lieb

Insanity is just what we call stupidity when it doesn't make sense.

~Josh Lieb

Gratitude can sometimes be as annoying as whininess.

~Josh Lieb

I thought I was going to be a poet when I was in college, but then I found out I was poor so I decided to do something I'd get paid for.

~Josh Lieb

The more you write, the faster you'll write, and the less you'll mind throwing stuff out.

~Josh Lieb

Crime is for poor people. You don't need to rob the bank if you own it.

~Josh Lieb

I can't focus on any one day, because I always have to be ready for the next. It's fun but frenetic - like living in a circus that never stops performing.

~Josh Lieb

A lot of young writers are very precious about their words. Don't be - you've got to be ready to burn stuff. You're not as good as you think you are, at least not yet.

~Josh Lieb

It's interesting, on your second day of existence, to realize that your father is going to blame all the future failures of his life on you.

~Josh Lieb

If you want to do this - either write for TV, or write books - the first thing you have to do is write a lot. And I mean a ridiculous amount.

~Josh Lieb

I have to start writing down things that happen, or I'll forget my life entirely.

~Josh Lieb

I keep my TV writing and my book writing almost wholly separate. The audiences feel so different.

~Josh Lieb

You have to know writing styles well before you can copy them - and then incorporate parts of them into your own style.

~Josh Lieb

I read an awful lot in college - a lot of Dickens, a lot of 19th century American stuff, a lot of old mysteries. Maybe it's helped me attain a certain fluidity with my style.

~Josh Lieb

I was an English major in college, though I ended up getting my degree in "General Studies" because my grades were too bad to qualify for an English degree.

~Josh Lieb

I'm the producer of "The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon," so I definitely have an exciting day job.
