The power of noble deeds is to be preserved and passed on to the future.

~Joshua Chamberlain

I never could be a partisan leader - a man of one idea.

~Joshua Chamberlain

The inspiration of a noble cause enables men to do things they did not dream themselves capable of before

~Joshua Chamberlain

But the cause for which we fought was higher; our thought wider... That thought was our power.

~Joshua Chamberlain

We pass now quickly from each other's sight; but I know full well that where beyond these passing scenes you shall be, there will be Heaven.

~Joshua Chamberlain

We know not of the future and cannot plan for it much.

~Joshua Chamberlain

The pageant has passed. That day is over. But we linger, loath to think we shall see them no more together - these men, these horses, these colors afield.

~Joshua Chamberlain

I know in whom all my highest hopes and dearest joys are centered. I know in whom my whole heart can rest "so sweetly and so surely.

~Joshua Chamberlain

The word was enough. It ran like fire along the line, from man to man, and rose into a shout, with which they sprang forward upon the enemy, now not 30 yards away.

~Joshua Chamberlain

A radiant fellowship of the fallen.

~Joshua Chamberlain

I am not of Virginia blood; she is of mine.

~Joshua Chamberlain

Let me say no danger and no hardship ever makes me wish to get back to that college life again.
