Maturity is achieved when a person postpones immediate pleasures for long-term values.

~Joshua L. Liebman

We achieve inner health only through forgiveness - the forgiveness not only of others but also of ourselves.

~Joshua L. Liebman

Treasure each other in the recognition that we do not know how long we shall have each other.

~Joshua L. Liebman

Tolerance is the positive and cordial effort to understand another's beliefs, practices, and habits without necessarily sharing or accepting them.

~Joshua L. Liebman

Maturity is achieved when a person accepts life as full of tension.

~Joshua L. Liebman

Stripped of all their masquerades, the fears of men are quite identical: the fear of loneliness, rejection, inferiority, unmanageable anger, illness and death.

~Joshua L. Liebman

God hears no sweeter music than the cracked chimes of the courageous human spirit ringing in imperfect acknowledgement of His perfect love.

~Joshua L. Liebman

Nature does not demand that we be perfect. It requires only that we grow.

~Joshua L. Liebman

We are the carriers of health and disease - either the divine health of courage and nobility or the demonic diseases of hate and anxiety

~Joshua L. Liebman

Self-understanding rather than self-condemnation is the way to inner peace and mature conscience.

~Joshua L. Liebman

There is too much undissolved wrath and punishment in most religions.
