If they give you ruled paper, write the other way.

~Juan Ramon Jimenez

Literature is a state of culture, poetry is a state of grace, before and after culture.

~Juan Ramon Jimenez

A permanent state of transition is man's most noble condition.

~Juan Ramon Jimenez

I do not cut my life up into days but my days into lives, each day, each hour, an entire life.

~Juan Ramon Jimenez

My only two weapons: time and silence.

~Juan Ramon Jimenez

Perhaps this momentary life of ours is only the light that divides our infinite origin from our infinite end.

~Juan Ramon Jimenez

The greatest assassin of life is haste, the desire to reach things before the right time which means overreaching them.

~Juan Ramon Jimenez

Some of my affectionate envious friends say, "You write too much." Maybe, I answer. But as long as the best of your little is worse than the worst of my much, I will keep on doing so.

~Juan Ramon Jimenez

The urban man is an uprooted tree, he can put out leaves, flowers and grow fruit but what a nostalgia his leaf, flower, and fruit will always have for mother earth!

~Juan Ramon Jimenez

A fantasy can be equivalent to a paradise and if the fantasy passes, better yet, because eternal paradise would be very boring.

~Juan Ramon Jimenez

The background reveals the true being and state of being of the man or thing. If I do not possess the background, I make the man transparent, the thing transparent.

~Juan Ramon Jimenez

Back of my forehead I feel tonight A whole sky full of stars. Under a western moon. Life is indeed lovely!

~Juan Ramon Jimenez

To live is nothing more than to come here to die, to be what we were before being born, but with apprenticeship, experience, knowledge of cause, and perhaps with will.

~Juan Ramon Jimenez

Love, you are eternal like springtime.

~Juan Ramon Jimenez

Sharp nostalgia, infinite and terrible, for what I already possess.
