Derivatives are a huge, complex issue.

~Judd Gregg

I think, like everybody else in New Hampshire, when I pull up to fill up my car and I pay $50, I get upset. And I'm wondering if these prices are legitimate.

~Judd Gregg

We invaded Iraq to change a totalitarian, despotic regime, and we have been successful there.

~Judd Gregg

Elections have consequences.

~Judd Gregg

Most people get their politics, obviously, from TV shows about senators or movies about them or... all the day-to-day press and the talk shows.

~Judd Gregg

The president deserves someone who can block for his policies.

~Judd Gregg

I think I could have worked for the Clinton administration.

~Judd Gregg

I don't rule out anything in my future.

~Judd Gregg

I think it is important that we all try and be green where it is possible; an awareness of the world around us can never be a bad thing.

~Judd Gregg

You have safety and soundness as primary purpose of the Federal Reserve, the OCC, and the other agencies which control banking regulation.

~Judd Gregg

You can't make a representation and then claim you didn't make it. You know, it just shouldn't work that way.

~Judd Gregg

At least Obama was half-way honest about how much he was going to spend on health care. He had it at $600 billion. And the real number... is $1.2 trillion.

~Judd Gregg

Whether or not you have good consumer protection has a big effect on safety and soundness of the banking community, especially smaller banks.

~Judd Gregg

Social Security was always supposed to be basically, in theory, an insurance program where you pay in and then you get out.

~Judd Gregg

Most senators are just going to work and trying to do a job.

~Judd Gregg

I have never been opposed to earmarks.

~Judd Gregg

I don't think the American people want unilateral government control over the entire health-care system.

~Judd Gregg

If we don't get this economy going, the numbers that represent this stimulus package are going to be small compared to the loss of revenue to the federal government for our economy.
