

Judith McNaught Quotes

People, Voice, Giving, Eye, Heart, Years, Men, Tears, Dream, Hands, Kingdoms, Memories, Murder, Husband, Funeral, Color, Mines, Hundred, Foolish, Inspirational

You can't live your life to suit other people. The harder you try, the more restrictions they'll put on you just for the fun of seeing you jump through their hoops.

~Judith McNaught

You will soon discover that in matters of the heart, memories are much kinder than reality

~Judith McNaught

Listen to your instincts and ignore everything else.

~Judith McNaught

Why did happy memories fade and blur until one could scarcely recall them at all, while horrible memories seemed to retain their blinding clarity and painful sharpness?

~Judith McNaught

Some people feel love in their hearts, Julie. Some of us feel it all way into our souls. We're the ones who can't forget.

~Judith McNaught

Everything wrong I've ever done has always seemed like the right thing to do at the time.

~Judith McNaught

True beauty springs from the heart and dwells in the eyes.

~Judith McNaught

Looking at you has been my favorite pastime from the moment you asked me to describe your face," he said solemnly, looking straight into her eyes.

~Judith McNaught

I love life, even when bad things happen to me. I can't stop loving it.

Every season of the year comes with a promise that something wonderful is going to happen to me someday.

~Judith McNaught

How foolish to yearn to ask the very person who'd caused the pain to heal it

~Judith McNaught

The groom always smiles proudly because he's convinced he's accomplished something quite wonderful. The bride smiles because she's been able to convince him of it.

~Judith McNaught

“People who talk less frequently notice more.

~Judith McNaught

An answering smile drifted across his tanned face. "What is mine, I intend to keep.

~Judith McNaught

Whitney: Where is your home? Clayton: Wherever you are.

~Judith McNaught

Missing you?" she giggled incredulously. "I could cheerfully murder you." "I'd come back to haunt you," he threatened with a grin. "And that," she said, "is the only reason why I haven't tried.

~Judith McNaught

Some women need no jewels to make them sparkle. You are one of them. -Royce Westmoreland

~Judith McNaught

The two of them simply weren't attracted to just any attractive, eligible man; they were attracted rarely, but when it happened, it was evidently a life-altering experience.

~Judith McNaught

Life was wonderful, so filled with people and activities, with love and laughter.

~Judith McNaught

I want more from life than that and I have more to give.

~Judith McNaught

It was a kingdom of dreams â€” a place where things would be just the way I wanted them to be.

~Judith McNaught

After all, it's not every day a woman is given a kingdom of dreams.

~Judith McNaught

It isn't what you say that counts, it's what you don't say

~Judith McNaught

Why is it when you yield, I feel like the one who has been conquered?

~Judith McNaught

He will love only once - but it will be for always.

~Judith McNaught

Let me go.â€• â€œI can'tâ€•, he said hoarsely, (â€!)â€• I've tried a hundred times to let you go, Victoria, but I can't.

~Judith McNaught

Success without someone to share it with is hollow indeed. On the other hand, it beats the heck out of failure.

~Judith McNaught

Which brings me to the question of why we always 'fall' in love. One falls down steps, off ladders, into rivers and down mountains. If love is so wonderful, why don't we soar in love or climb in love?

~Judith McNaught

The old adage which says that it is "whom you know that counts" is far off the mark. It is what you know about whom you know that truly makes difference.

~Judith McNaught

Missing you? I could cheerfully murder you.

~Judith McNaught

Sometimes it just happens - to the wrong people at the wrong time.

~Judith McNaught

Whitney: You black-hearted, treacherous, conniving scoundrel. Clayton: Your flattery warms my heart

~Judith McNaught

A romance novel should leave readers joyous. My books all have happy endings.

~Judith McNaught

You can't condemn me for wanting you, unless you condemn every other man who has." -Clayton Westmoreland

~Judith McNaught

I used to be ashamed And now I am proud. The world once was black And now it is bright. I used to walk head bent And now I stand up tall. I used to have dreams But now I have hope.

~Judith McNaught

Love can't be forced into existence,(...)It won't come simply because you will it to happen

~Judith McNaught

Don't do this to us." He warned, his voice hoarse with angry desperation as he realize he was losing her. "You're letting eleven years of mistrust color everything you've discovered I've done".

~Judith McNaught

Either give me your hand, or end it now, and put us both out of our misery

~Judith McNaught

A lie is an affront to the soul, as well as an insult to the intelligence of the person to whom one lies.

~Judith McNaught

Elizabeth, if you want to be kissed, all you have to do is put your lips on mine.

~Judith McNaught

I do not believe that grief is ever so great that it can not be contained within.

~Judith McNaught

At my age, I regard each funeral I attend as a personal triumph, because I was not the guest of honor.

~Judith McNaught

It would have hurt no matter who took you the first time.

~Judith McNaught

I think we women underrate ourselves when it comes to our courage and strength.

~Judith McNaught

Reformed rakes often make the best husbands

~Judith McNaught

Nor is he man enough to make a woman of you.

~Judith McNaught

How am I doing so far?" she asked, forcing a cheerful lightness into her voice. "You're doing very well," Nick's lazy voice mocked. "I'm half convinced that I'm invisible.

~Judith McNaught

I buy everything in sight. It took my last ounce of control not to buy one of these in every color.

~Judith McNaught

His gaze held hers, and his voice was tender and rough. "Love me, Elizabeth." Elizabeth felt a tremor run through her entire body, but she looked at him without flinching. "I do.

~Judith McNaught

Because," he said quietly as she stood up, "until you walked into it, this was an ordinary garden." Puzzled, Elizabeth tipped her head. "What is it now?" "Heaven.

~Judith McNaught

We are not of what we feel or believe to do, we are of what we do or fail to do.

~Judith McNaught

We all do foolish things when we are in love. Don't we, your grace?

~Judith McNaught

Royce's eyes narrowed in discouragement at the thought of having to sing to Jenny. His deep baritone voice would surely bring every hound for miles to yap and nip at his heels.

~Judith McNaught

But he knew instinctively what he suggested was impossible. She'd been through so much, and held her tears back for so long, that Royce doubted that anything could force her to shed them.

~Judith McNaught

Matt: I know you can cook. Meredith: What makes you so sure? Matt: Because less than an hour ago, you set me on fire.

~Judith McNaught

What happens to me if this slipper fits?" "I turn you into a handsome frog.

~Judith McNaught

Jennifer Merrick had stored all her tears inside her, and her pride and courage would never permit her to break down and shed them.

~Judith McNaught

God help him." He chortled. "He doesn't realize he loves her. And even if he did, he wouldn't admitted it." -Dr. Whitticomb

~Judith McNaught

She wept with shame for her lack of will and with fear for a love she couldn't control.

~Judith McNaught

Love" and all the obsessive behaviors associated with it, was an absurd emotion.

~Judith McNaught

If I had a hundred kingdoms, I would trade them all for you, my dearest love. I was nothing until you.

~Judith McNaught

Related Links:

- People Quotes
- Voice Quotes
- Giving Quotes
- Eye Quotes
- Heart Quotes
- Years Quotes
- Men Quotes
- Tears Quotes
- Dream Quotes
- Hands Quotes
- Kingdoms Quotes
- Memories Quotes
- Murder Quotes
- Husband Quotes
- Funeral Quotes
- Color Quotes
- Mines Quotes
- Hundred Quotes
- Foolish Quotes
- Inspirational Quotes