Woman is a miracle of divine contradictions.

~Jules Michelet

He who would confine his thought to present time will not understand present reality.

~Jules Michelet

What is the first part of politics? Education. The second? Education. And the third? Education.

~Jules Michelet

Achieving a goal is nothing. The getting there is everything.

~Jules Michelet

Every epoch dreams its successor.

~Jules Michelet

You are one of the forces of nature.

~Jules Michelet

The way to gain a friend is to be one

~Jules Michelet

Women are perfectly well aware that the more they seem to obey the more they rule.

~Jules Michelet

The historian's first duties are sacrilege and the mocking of false gods. They are his indispensable instruments for establishing the truth.

~Jules Michelet

Our esteem is apt to be given where we know the least.

~Jules Michelet

Great hearts alone understand how much glory there is in being good.

~Jules Michelet

Woman's happiness consists in obeying; she objects to a man who yields too much.

~Jules Michelet

He who knows how to be poor knows everything.

~Jules Michelet

At its starting point in India, the birthplace of races and religions, the womb of the world.

~Jules Michelet

If you wish to ruin yourself, marry a rich wife.

~Jules Michelet

Animal life, sombre mystery. All nature protests against the barbarity of man, who misapprehends, who humiliates, who tortures his inferior brethren.

~Jules Michelet

Love is strong in its passion; affection is powerful in its gentleness.

~Jules Michelet

How beautifully everything is arranged by Nature; as soon as a child enters the world, it finds a mother ready to take care of it.

~Jules Michelet

The real, in all this efforts, is that we climb just for climbing.

~Jules Michelet

The indifference of men, far more than their tyranny, is the torment of women.

~Jules Michelet

Woman is the Sunday of man: not his repose only, but his joy; the salt of his life.

~Jules Michelet

What manly eloquence could produce such an effect as woman's silence?

~Jules Michelet
