If I look over my life, every single step of maturing for me, every single one, has had the exact same common denominator: accepting what was true over what I wished were true.

~Julia Sweeney

Our family was too strange and weird for even Santa Claus to come visit ... Santa, who was jolly - but, let's face it, he was also very judgmental.

~Julia Sweeney

Why isn't there a book about someone losing their faith and it being a beautiful experience?

~Julia Sweeney

sometimes it's in your limitations that you find your greatest strengths.

~Julia Sweeney

Don't get me wrong, I'm not ashamed of my body, I just don't see any reason to not cover it up as much as possible. ... I'm someone who considered becoming a nun, for the outfit.

~Julia Sweeney

Losing my faith was the most spiritual thing that ever happened to me.

~Julia Sweeney

Because death and illness are the most horrible things in life, of course that's where the most absurdly funny things are going to happen.

~Julia Sweeney

It was a fine cancer experience, as cancer experiences go.

~Julia Sweeney

I'm not a standup. I don't really have jokes. I don't have 10 minutes. It took a while for me to realize this.
