Be what you are. This is the first step toward becoming better than you are.

~Julius Charles Hare

The mind is like a sheet of white paper in this, that the impressions it receives the oftenest, and retains the longest, are black ones.

~Julius Charles Hare

Children always turn towards the light. Oh that grown-up people in this world became like little children!

~Julius Charles Hare

The next best thing to a very good joke is a very bad one.

~Julius Charles Hare

A weak mind sinks under prosperity, as well as under adversity.

~Julius Charles Hare

The virtue of Christianity is obedience.

~Julius Charles Hare

Everybody has his own theatre, in which he is manager, actor, prompter, playwright, sceneshifter, boxkeeper, doorkeeper, all in one, and audience into the bargain.

~Julius Charles Hare

Knowledge is the parent of love; wisdom, love itself.

~Julius Charles Hare

The business of philosophy is to circumnavigate human nature.

~Julius Charles Hare

By the ancients, courage was regarded as practically the main part of virtue; by us, though I hope we are not less brave, purity is so regarded now.

~Julius Charles Hare

True goodness is like the glow-worm in this, that it shines most when no eyes except those of heaven are upon it.

~Julius Charles Hare

Few people have courage enough to appear as good as they really are. Most people confuse greatness with power, despite the fact that greatness has nothing to do with power.

~Julius Charles Hare

To no kind of begging are people so averse, as to begging pardon; that is, when there is any serious ground for doing so.

~Julius Charles Hare

If your divines are not philosophers, your philosophy will neither be divine, nor able to divine.
