The blood of heroes is closer to the Lord than the ink of scholars and the prayers of the pious.

~Julius Evola

Neither pleasure nor pain should enter as motives when one must do what must be done.

~Julius Evola

I see nothing but a world of ruins, where a kind of front line is possible only in the catacombs.

~Julius Evola

My principles are only those that, before the French Revolution, every well-born person considered sane and normal.

~Julius Evola

The supreme nobility of a Roman emperor does not consist in being a master of slaves, but in being a lord of free men, who loves freedom even in those who serve him.

~Julius Evola

Nothing is further from the truth than the claim that the American soul is 'open-minded' and unbiased; on the contrary, it is ridden with countless taboos of which people are sometimes not even aware.

~Julius Evola
