You see a hockey player, you'd never know he's a professional athlete. But you put the skates on him, and he becomes a beast.

~Junior Seau

I'm afraid of being average. I have a real fear of being just another linebacker.

~Junior Seau

No excuses and no sob stories. Life is full of excuses if you're looking. I have no time to gripe over misfortune. I don't waste time looking back.

~Junior Seau

I get paid to practice. I play the game for free.

~Junior Seau

I'm not retiring. I am graduating. Today is my graduation day. Retirement means that you'll just go ahead and live on your laurels and surf all day in Oceanside. It ain't going to happen.

~Junior Seau

I had parents who instilled in me the importance of love, morals and hard work. I give God all the glory because he has brought me through so much.

~Junior Seau

In order to gain the respect of your players in the locker room, you can't just perform on Saturday. You have to do it consistently during practices, meetings, and in the weight room.

~Junior Seau

Leadership comes with consistency.

~Junior Seau

The past isn't going to get you to your goal.

~Junior Seau

I'm not afraid to fail. I'm afraid to be mediocre.

~Junior Seau

I want to be the best. That's just the human way.

~Junior Seau

The best meal at my restaurant is the whole right side of the menu.
