We all love animals. Why do we call some 'pets' and others 'dinner?'

~K. D. Lang

I grew up in cattle country-that's why I became a vegetarian. Meat stinks, for the animals, the environment, and your health.

~K. D. Lang

To dance is human, to polka is divine.

~K. D. Lang

I'm proud that I was one of the first ones out, singing loud and proud.

~K. D. Lang

The sky is an infinite movie to me. I never get tired of looking at what's happening up there.

~K. D. Lang

I think I have a better sense of my weaknesses - being self-important, selfish and having a big ego probably triggers all the other stuff. I can see myself more clearly.

~K. D. Lang

The older I get, the more I embrace who I am.

~K. D. Lang

When women make their image about youth and sexuality, and not about intellect, that's kind of a dead-end road. So I think it's a combination of self-entrapment and entrapment by society.

~K. D. Lang

I never get tired of exploring Americana or country music, and I always have a little bit of a crooner in me that never seems to go away.

~K. D. Lang

Sweet, sweet burn of sun and summer wind, and you my friend, my new fun thing, my summer fling.

~K. D. Lang

You have to respect your audience. Without them, you're essentially standing alone, singing to yourself.

~K. D. Lang

Look. Art knows no prejudice, art knows no boundaries, art doesn't really have judgement in it's purest form. So just go, just go.

~K. D. Lang

I certainly fall in love with artists. I think that's probably the aspiration of an artist, to make a listener empathize so deeply that they do fall in love with you.

~K. D. Lang

My public image is so low-key, but I get to travel the world and still have an audience and it's really amazing. I don't take that for granted.

~K. D. Lang

There needn't be a distinction between your life and your music.

~K. D. Lang

Heartache is very fertile ground for song-making but so is happiness, so is absolute bliss.

~K. D. Lang

I never, my producer never, we never let myself just sing. We were always trying to get the perfect vocal.

~K. D. Lang

I just really allowed my muse to be my guide and I just go with whatever I'm feeling.

~K. D. Lang

If you knew how meat was made, youd probably lose your lunch.

~K. D. Lang

I just try to speak passionately about things I'm involved in and moved by.

~K. D. Lang

I don't sing anything that hurts my voice.

~K. D. Lang

I believe in monogamy if that's what a couple decides upon together, but it all depends on the personal history and culture of the two involved.

~K. D. Lang

Life is so impermanent that it's not about somebody else or things around me, it's about knowing you are completely alone in this world and being content inside.

~K. D. Lang

I think that the older I get and the more comfortable I get with myself, the more I realize that art is about relinquishing control of your emotions and being vulnerable and innocent.

~K. D. Lang

I sort of believe that my voice was preordained; I'm a Buddhist who believes in reincarnation so I think that my voice is a few lifetimes old.

~K. D. Lang

I just try to live a really simple, natural life, because obviously, life has an impact on your voice.

~K. D. Lang

Spend time reflecting on your emotional and physical existence and how that applies to the voice. You have to apply that wisdom and experience when you sing - it's what comes through.

~K. D. Lang

I'm a singer and as long as I can sing - which, thank God, is something that I still seem to be able to do - I'd like to carry on making records.

~K. D. Lang

Even through the darkest phase
Be it thick or thin
Always someone
marches brave
Here beneath my skin

~K. D. Lang

I don't consider my homosexuality a political thing. I consider it a sexual and spiritual thing. I only started going to political rallies to meet women.

~K. D. Lang

Television really has been my vehicle. I don't get played on the radio much, so I've relied on TV a lot.

~K. D. Lang

I'm nearly 50. I'm past being photographed falling out of bars.

~K. D. Lang

Minimal is the word I'd use to describe how I live and dress, and it's also how I sing. I'm not a big fan of overemoting.

~K. D. Lang

I started singing when I was five. I grew up the youngest of four kids who all studied classical piano, so you could say I've been listening to music ever since the moment of conception.

~K. D. Lang

I like the music. I don't like the business. I get very tired of the travel and moving, constantly moving. But the hour-and-a-half that I'm making music, I'm one of the happiest people on earth.

~K. D. Lang

I feel like at 50 I've decided to become a rock star, which is, you know, typical of me. I always seem to work backwards.

~K. D. Lang

He had total love in his eyes when he performed. He was the total androgenous beauty. I would practice Elvis in front of the mirror when I was twelve or thirteen years old.

~K. D. Lang

It's just a theory really, but I have always thought that your physical surroundings can shape your voice and personality.

~K. D. Lang

I think I was a singer before I came out of the womb. I also think that the way you live your life, and the choices you make parallel what doors open up for you.

~K. D. Lang

I wanted to write songs that would play themselves on stage, songs that sweep you through their current.

~K. D. Lang

There are days when I still want to be able to do what I want when I want, but there's also something wonderful about being secure.

~K. D. Lang

I often say fame is kind of like a drug or like sugar: when it's controlling you it doesn't feel good at all.

~K. D. Lang

I don't believe that human beings are necessarily monogamous.

~K. D. Lang

And I'm not even just talking artists, every single person in this nation has the right to be themselves, live life go team go. I love you Canada, thank you so much.

~K. D. Lang

Justin Bieber looks like a lesbian. Hot as sh*t!

~K. D. Lang

My voice and the styles and genres I sing all express my appreciation for what I hear.

~K. D. Lang

Traveling renews you.

~K. D. Lang

I think masculinity is bravado against the mystery of the universe of women. It's just a fear of not knowing what women have that's so powerful. It's this shield they put up to try to get closer.

~K. D. Lang

It was kind of easier for me to do records that didn't take a year or two years of my life to write and to make.

~K. D. Lang

We're in a period where society seems very attracted to flash, and that seeps into people's musical taste.
