Valhalla on the right. Paradise regained on the left. Stuck between a Godiva truffle and a chocolate éclair. Between a rock and a very hard place. Two very hard places from the looks of it.

~Karen Marie Moning

I'm sorry your pretty little world got all screwed up, but everybody's does, and you go on. It's how you go on that defines you.

~Karen Marie Moning

That part of his body was simply uncontrollable, apparently functioning in accordance to a single law of nature: She existed--he got a hard-on.

~Karen Marie Moning

There should be a vaccine against Adam Black. And all women should be given it at birth.

~Karen Marie Moning

Oh, drop the act, Tinkerbell, and get rid of my problem. Then we'll talk.

~Karen Marie Moning

Life's a choice: you can live in black and white, or you can live in colour. I'll take every shade of the rainbow and the gazillion in between!

~Karen Marie Moning

Some people bring out the worst in you, others bring out the best, and then there are those remarkably rare, addictive ones who just bring out the most. Of everything.

~Karen Marie Moning

It's often only in the lies we refuse to speak that any truth can be heard at all.

~Karen Marie Moning

Nobody looks good in their darkest hours. But it's those hours that make us what we are.

~Karen Marie Moning

Fire to my ice. Ice to my fever.

~Karen Marie Moning

The most confused we ever get is when we're trying to convince our heads of something our heart knows is a lie.

~Karen Marie Moning

See me when you look at me.

~Karen Marie Moning

It's so easy to lie. What's even worse is how we cling to those lies. We beg for the illusion so we don't have to face the truth, don't have to feel alone.

~Karen Marie Moning

Jericho Barrons just told me he loves me.

~Karen Marie Moning

Four: If you try to force yourself into my head, I will force myself into your pants.

~Karen Marie Moning

Love knows no right or wrong. Love is. Only is.

~Karen Marie Moning

One day you will kiss a man you can't breathe without, and find that breath is of little consequence.

~Karen Marie Moning

No matter how people try to dispute it, perception is reality. Its what you choose to believe that makes you the person you are.

~Karen Marie Moning

Jericho Barrons was my poison now.

~Karen Marie Moning

You're Mac, and I'm Jericho. And nothing else matters.

~Karen Marie Moning

I'm asking the questions tonight. • One day I was going to write a book: How to Dictate to a Dictator and Evade an Evader, subtitled How to Handle Jericho Barrons.

~Karen Marie Moning

You might be able to thrash your way out of a spiderweb, but thrashing in quicksand doesn't work. The harder you fight, the more ground you lose. Struggling merely expedites your inevitable defeat.

~Karen Marie Moning

There aren't many sins in my bible. Giving up is the greatest one of all.

~Karen Marie Moning

Barrons had just given me the most carnal, sexually charged hungry look I'd ever seen in my life, and I was pretty sure he didn't even know he had done it.

~Karen Marie Moning

Gazelles didn't lie down with lions, at least not unbloodied and alive.

~Karen Marie Moning

Caring is love. And love fights! Love doesn't look for the path of least resistance.

~Karen Marie Moning

There's no point in fighting the tide. It ebbs. It flows. You ride it.

~Karen Marie Moning

I'd rather live a hard life of fact than a sweet life of lies.

~Karen Marie Moning

It's just another of Robin's sayings. Like, 'Holy strawberries, Batman, we're in a jam! Or, Holy Kleenex, Batman, it was right under our nose and we blew it!

~Karen Marie Moning

The wisest man is the silent one. Examine his actions. Judge him by them.

~Karen Marie Moning

I'd learned a thing or two. Hope strengthens. Fear kills.

~Karen Marie Moning

I love books, by the way, way more than movies. Movies tell you what to think. A good book lets you choose a few thoughts for yourself.

~Karen Marie Moning

If aught must be lost, â€™twill be my honor for yours. If one must be forsaken, â€™twill be my soul for yours. Should death come anon, â€™twill be my life for yours. I am Given.

~Karen Marie Moning

Even I don't know what you're doing, and I know everything.

~Karen Marie Moning

When insane things start to arrange themselves in sane patterns around you, you know you got problems.

~Karen Marie Moning

Evil is a completely different creature, Mac. Evil is bad that believes it's good.

~Karen Marie Moning

I am a kite in a tornado, but I have a long string.

~Karen Marie Moning

It's just that in the Deep South, women learn at a young age that when the world is falling apart around you, it's time to take down the drapes and make a new dress.

~Karen Marie Moning

The power of thought is far greater than most people ever realize.

~Karen Marie Moning

Anyone worth knowing breaks once. Once. No shame, no foul if you survive it. You did.

~Karen Marie Moning

He lives. I breathe. I want. Him. Always. Fire to my ice. Ice to my fever.

-Mac

~Karen Marie Moning

Truth hurts. But lies can kill.

~Karen Marie Moning

You'll never be just anything. A tsunami can never be just a wave (...)

Waves are banal. Tsunamis reshape the Earth

~Karen Marie Moning

Sometimes my dreams feel so real it's hard to believe they're just the subconscious's stroll across a whimsical map that has no true north.

~Karen Marie Moning

I wondered what one wore to visit a vampire. The chic red sweater set didn't go so well with my darker hair, and I was afraid it might be construed as a flirtatious invitation to color me bloodier.

~Karen Marie Moning

Werewolves? Oh please, just plain stupid. Who wants to get it on with a man ruled by his inner dog?

~Karen Marie Moning

He goes for stark versus accessorized, dark over bright, jewel tone instead of pastel, carnal over flirty.

~Karen Marie Moning

I'm a bartender. I like recipes. They're concretes. Was the drink recipe for seduction one shot charm and two shots self-deception, shaken, not stirred?

~Karen Marie Moning

His coworker was velvety-skinned, a sexy boy-on-the-cusp-of man.

~Karen Marie Moning

Strength wasn't about being able to do everything alone. Strength was knowing when to ask for help and not being too proud to do it.

~Karen Marie Moning

I like sex for breakfast, kid. I eat early and often.

~Karen Marie Moning

Gah, some chicks should be shot. Put out of everyone else's reproduction pool.

~Karen Marie Moning

Yes, I have loved, Ms. Lane, and although it's none of your business, I have lost. Many things.

~Karen Marie Moning

Dude, the bush is ready. Why you still beating around it? • I've lived a long time, kid, and I've never heard anyone mutilate the English language quite like you.

~Karen Marie Moning

We're translating the Kama Sutra," Barrons said, with interactive aids.

~Karen Marie Moning

Please tell me we don't grow up and turn into the adults that drive us crazy.

~Karen Marie Moning

I have studied humans for a small eternity. Intent infuses their every movement. Road maps to their inner navigation, plastered all over their skin. Born to be slaves.

~Karen Marie Moning

Mac." He said my name and laughed. "What a name for something like you. Mac.

~Karen Marie Moning

He didn't just kiss, he claimed ownership. Took her mouth with urgency, as if his life depended on his kissing her.

~Karen Marie Moning

Its our actions that define us. What we choose. What we resist. What we're willing to die for.

~Karen Marie Moning

I don't know about you, but I call impromptu vomiting harm.

~Karen Marie Moning

Turn it off," Ryodan says without even looking at me. "You're distressing Dani. No one distresses Dani but me.

~Karen Marie Moning

Holy borrowing bibliophile, let's book!

~Karen Marie Moning

Fear and doubt are major stampeders.

~Karen Marie Moning

I was adrift in a sea of questions and if answers were lifeboats, I was in imminent danger of drowning.

~Karen Marie Moning

I was stunned to see that he looked stunned himself, which was an exorbitant display of emotion for Barrons.

~Karen Marie Moning

And when he did that, my hands curled into fists because I thought about touching his face like maybe I could catch joy in my hands and hold it.

~Karen Marie Moning

The entire time I'm burning in Hell, I'll regret each tear I made you weep. But if Hell were the price for twenty days with you, I'd condemn myself again and again. - Cian MacKeltar

~Karen Marie Moning

I love books, they're in my blood.

~Karen Marie Moning

You're leaving me, Rainbow Girl.

~Karen Marie Moning

~Karen Marie Moning

The only reality you can control is the one you're willing to face.

~Karen Marie Moning

Mom raised us to believe that every lie puts something out there in the world that's inevitably going to come back and bite you in the petunia.

~Karen Marie Moning

I think dating courtesies are common courtesies that should be practiced in most all civilized encounters. I pine for the days of good, old-fashioned manners.

~Karen Marie Moning

You can't save people from themselves. You can only try to wake them up.

~Karen Marie Moning

Don't celebrate yet, Ms. Lane. Don't believe anything is dead until you've burned it, poked around in its ashes, and then waited a day or two to see if anything rises from them.

~Karen Marie Moning

You never knew what you could get away with until you tried.

~Karen Marie Moning

I lock eyes with my reflection and don't look away. The day you look away you start to lose yourself. I'm never going to lose myself. You are what you are. Deal with it or change.

~Karen Marie Moning

Hope is a critical thing. Without it, we are nothing. Hope shapes will. The will shapes the world.

~Karen Marie Moning

People treat you as badly as you let them treat you. Key word there: let.

~Karen Marie Moning

You can't look at someone with your eyes and take their measure. You have to look with the heart.

~Karen Marie Moning

One of the primary tenets of the course was that highly successful leaders kept journals, morning and night, in order to stay tightly focused on their goals.

~Karen Marie Moning

You're not falling for me, are you, Irish?" -Adam to Gabrielle

~Karen Marie Moning

Dubh is do?" I was incredulous. It was no wonder I hadn't been able to find the stupid word. "Should I be calling pubs poos?" "Dubh is Gaelic, Ms. Lane. Pub is not.

~Karen Marie Moning

He looked blank. "He's the one who's been doing the magic against us?" "Duh," I said. "Doona be duh'ing me, lass," he growled, his burr thickening.

~Karen Marie Moning

What is the greater good but tyranny's chameleon?

~Karen Marie Moning

I'm not the hero, Mac. Never have been. Never will be. Let us be perfectly clear: I'm not the antihero, either, so quit waiting to discover my hidden potential. There's nothing to redeem me.

~Karen Marie Moning

One day you do meet a man who kisses you and you can't breathe around it and you realize you don't need air.

~Karen Marie Moning

How could they let me grow up like thatâ€”happy and pink and stupid?

~Karen Marie Moning

I'm his locomotive and he's my shield.
