Every child born into the world is a new thought of God, an ever-fresh and radiant possibility.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

There is a kind of magicness about going far away and then coming back all changed.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

There is nothing so debilitating to a naturally weak sense of humor as selling tickets behind a grating.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

It was not long after sunrise, and Stephen Waterman, fresh from his dip in the river, had scrambled up the hillside from the hut in the alder-bushes where he had made his morning toilet.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

If you make children happy now, you will make them happy twenty years hence by the memory of it.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

Some folks mistakes all they see for all there is.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

Why is it that the people with whom one loves to be silent are also the very ones with whom one loves to talk?

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

Lord, I do not ask that Thou shouldst give me wealth; only show me where it is, and I will attend to the rest.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

Father doesn't think very sudden, but he thinks awful strong.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

Bear figs for a season or two, and the world outside the orchard is very unwilling you should bear thistles.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

Miranda Sawyer had a heart, of course, but she had never used it for any other purpose than the pumping and circulating of blood.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

There are certain narrow, unimaginative, and autocratic old people who seem to call out the most mischievous and sometimes the worst traits in children.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

A real Christmas baby was not to be lightly named.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

To let blessed babies go dangling and dawdling without names, for months and months, was enough to ruin them for life.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

you can never prove God; you can only find Him!

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

It is very funny, but you do not always have to see people to love them. Just think about it, and see if it isn't so.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

When, all at once, you find you have something precious you only dimly suspected was to be yours, you almost wish it hadn't come so soon.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

Pictures made in childhood are painted in bright hues.

~Kate Douglas Wiggin

You may have noted the fact that it is a person's virtues as often as his vices that make him difficult to live with.
