I love my kids, they are amazing children, but they drive me bananas sometimes. And sometimes, I want to sell them on eBay... but I'm not going to.

~Katie Aselton

There is something really nice about learning that you can take the reins of your life and your career.

~Katie Aselton

Everyone grows and changes. It's not even to say that you become a better person than you were, but you're morphing. This whole thing is just a weird river that we're on.

~Katie Aselton

It's not rocket science to make a movie.

~Katie Aselton

There are certain tenets set in place for all different types on genres. For thrillers, women usually die first.

~Katie Aselton

There are very few shows that show women talking like strong, sassy women. Do you know what I mean? 'Sex and the City' started doing that, and that was why that was such a huge hit.

~Katie Aselton

I will never be a skinny waif as I am physically unable to say "no" to free booze and snacks. Oh well.

~Katie Aselton

I don't think I'm going to go into Iron Man. I mean, I can't say that I won't go into something like an Iron Man franchise.

~Katie Aselton

If you're a woman, just make a freaking good movie. I don't believe in the women who say, 'It's too hard, I'm getting shot down.'

~Katie Aselton

I've got a couple of full-time jobs, since I'm raising a kid, so it's a lot.

~Katie Aselton

Okay, sense of humor: plus one. Being able to laugh at yourself: plus one. Being able to laugh at other people without being mean: plus one. Vanity: minus one.

~Katie Aselton

Steve Rannazzisi, Nick Kroll, Paul Scheer, Jon Lajoie - and they're such funny guys that they bring their own sort of twist to it all.

~Katie Aselton

I would like to get jobs doing other things that aren't necessarily always with my husband. I'd like to show range - and kiss another guy.

~Katie Aselton

If people want to talk about anything I do, they can give it any name they want. As long as they're talking about it, I think it's great.

~Katie Aselton

I'd like to get something small and self-generated in before Black Rock has whatever life that it has.

~Katie Aselton

I think I'm still trying to find my voice as a filmmaker and finding stories to tell.

~Katie Aselton

I have always had this secret fantasy of being a Bourne girl or Bond girl, and I've never even gotten called in on one of those roles.

~Katie Aselton

I really like oysters, and I won't eat them alone. They're just a weird thing to eat by yourself.

~Katie Aselton

If you can throw $5 back in the crafty, we'll take it, because it just means another meal, which is nice.

~Katie Aselton

I love sports. I was an athlete in high school, and my school was so small we didn't have a football team, so it's the one sport I didn't bother to learn the rules to because I never went to game.

~Katie Aselton

I have a very hard time picturing myself in a room with some type of goo oozing out of an air vent and killing me; that doesn't really scare me because I don't think that's going to happen to me.

~Katie Aselton

I am a very talented belcher. Very deep and bassy.

~Katie Aselton

Whole class of filmmakers, they're all graduating to a new level of filmmaking, which I think is awesome.

~Katie Aselton

The thriller genre in general, it's total foreign ground for me.

~Katie Aselton

I finished The Freebie, which was a small relationship "talky" movie, and I was like, "I just want to get out of the house! And I want there to be some action, and I want some tension in there!"

~Katie Aselton

One of the reasons why I had such a horrible draft is that I hosted an eight-hour pool party before the draft. and so I wasn't quite in my perfect drafting form.

~Katie Aselton

My team name is the Duchess of Douchecockery. Yep, that's mine.

~Katie Aselton

You can be feminine without being a victim. You can be sexy and use your big-girl voice at the same time.

~Katie Aselton

I don't know what's wrong with me, but like, the second I stop working, I have a panic attack, so it's good for me to be thinking of projects ahead of time and lining things up.

~Katie Aselton

I love profanity, but I think if it's used too much, it just sounds a little trashy. I think it's more effective when it's dropped intelligently. I like intelligent profanity.

~Katie Aselton

When you're generating your own stuff, you can never have too much money around, because you've already sacrificed so much and cut your budget so much that everything's taking a hit.

~Katie Aselton

I think the idea that women can stand up and be strong and still be seen as beautiful and sexual is kind of cool, and I would like to see more of that.

~Katie Aselton

That one thing you do give up when you get married is that magic moment of meeting someone, and the sparks and the spontaneity.

~Katie Aselton

You put three girls in a house, and all of a sudden before you know it, you're talking about boys and drinking whiskey, and things go down and you get deep real quick.

~Katie Aselton

I really want women to throw their shoulders back and stand up straight and use their big girl voices and not feel like they're compromising their femininity to be strong and smart.

~Katie Aselton

I'm kinda doing a lot of stuff.

~Katie Aselton

I didn't even grow up with football. I learned the rules of football on this show [The League].

~Katie Aselton

The story of survival is a nice metaphor for our experience making this movie, finding your inner strength and powering through and getting to the endpoint alive.

~Katie Aselton

Everything was a constant battle. My first film was beautiful. I got an amazing cast. That worked out great. Everything else was like Murphy's law. Everything that could go wrong, did go wrong.

~Katie Aselton

There was no glam squad, whatsoever. There were no dressing rooms. There were no bathrooms. Let's start at our base level. We didn't have toilet paper. We went to the woods to use the bathroom.

~Katie Aselton

I'd also take any acting job...well, not any acting job, that's not true. I'd take a cool acting job.
