What I'm normally associated with are darker, more brooding roles.

~Kelly Macdonald

I'm no good at anecdotes.

~Kelly Macdonald

I get claustrophobic in a harness. I'd be a terrible superhero.

~Kelly Macdonald

It was both comforting and terrifying to go in to audition for 'The Girl in the Cafe,' as I'd worked with everyone in the room on 'State Of Play.'

~Kelly Macdonald

I tend to get cast as a certain type of quiet, almost introverted person who's strong on the inside, but the characters are so very different I don't see it as any kind of typecasting.

~Kelly Macdonald

L.A. is brilliant, but however long my trip is I'm always ready to leave. But New York I'm never quite happy to see the back of.

~Kelly Macdonald

It's that TV thing. You can be in the biggest film of the year and it will still not have the kind of impact a TV series has. Once you're in people's living rooms, that's it. There's no hiding place.

~Kelly Macdonald

It can get a bit boring working on accents.

~Kelly Macdonald

I've done TV and I've done film, and I'm not snobby about it. It's about the project.

~Kelly Macdonald

I'm so not a celebrity.

~Kelly Macdonald

I love that thing on Amazon that you can go on and order a book, and you click on it and it says, 'You might also like,' or 'Other people who bought this have bought that.'
