The piano's world encompasses glass-nerved virtuos and stomping barrel-housers in fedoras; it is a world of pasture and storm, of perfumed smoke, of liquid mathematics.

~Kenneth R. Miller

The piano is able to communicate the subtlest universal truths by means of wood, metal and vibrating air.

~Kenneth R. Miller

No other acoustic instrument can match the piano's expressive range, and no electric instrument can match its mystery.

~Kenneth R. Miller

I am always struck by the fact that human awareness of our place in nature, like so much of modern science, began with the Industrial Revolution.

~Kenneth R. Miller

Our own genomes carry the story of evolution, written in DNA, the language of molecular genetics, and the narrative is unmistakable.

~Kenneth R. Miller

Science is about nature. And God, if he exists, transcends nature.

~Kenneth R. Miller

We don't regard any scientific theory as the absolute truth

~Kenneth R. Miller

There is no controversy within science over the core proposition of evolutionary theory.

~Kenneth R. Miller

Being a Christian, I'm eager to introduce people to Jesus. I just don't think I should do it in the science classroom

~Kenneth R. Miller

The scientific argument advanced for intelligent design at the Dover trial, those arguments collapsed, scientifically and intellectually

~Kenneth R. Miller

The argument for intelligent design basically depends on saying, 'You haven't answered every question with evolution,'... Well, guess what? Science can't answer every question

~Kenneth R. Miller

Whether conservative or liberal, fundamentalist or agnostic, the more students learn of biology, the more they accept evolution.

~Kenneth R. Miller

We believe the ice sheet was not around all the time. It was only around during cool snaps of the climate

~Kenneth R. Miller

I wouldn't want the federal government dictating how I use my cameras, every community has their own issues and their own dynamics.

~Kenneth R. Miller

A true conservative is on the side of science.

~Kenneth R. Miller

Evolution isn't just a take-it-or-leave-it story about where we came from. It's an epic at the centre of life itself. It tells us we are part of nature in every respect.

~Kenneth R. Miller

Any suggestion that science and religion are incompatible flies in the face of history, logic, and common sense.
