In order for America to remain a global leader in innovation and opportunity, we must give our children a solid foundation in math and science.

~Kenny Marchant

Last year I traveled to the Middle East to visit with troops in Kuwait, Iraq, and Afghanistan.

~Kenny Marchant

To be a success in business, be daring, be first, be different.

~Kenny Marchant

Unfortunately a Constitutional amendment that would have empowered Congress to make desecration of the United States flag illegal failed to pass by one vote.

~Kenny Marchant

In today's global economy, however, it is important to raise the bar of excellence even higher. Today's students must be prepared to compete effectively on an international level.

~Kenny Marchant

There is no reason not to support energy exploration in ANWR.

~Kenny Marchant

Stable energy prices and enhanced national security will only come when we increase domestic energy resources, which was accomplished today with the opening of ANWR.

~Kenny Marchant

In our Nation, approximately 22.5 million children ride school buses to and from school each day, which accounts for 54 percent of all students attending grade school.

~Kenny Marchant

This country was founded on a core set of family values. These values should not be discouraged and blatantly undermined by the airing of offensive material on broadcast television and radio.

~Kenny Marchant

The U.S. now imports over half of its oil supply from the Middle East. This dangerous dependence on foreign energy sources is an issue of national security.

~Kenny Marchant

The Coastal Plain of Alaska has great potential for energy development. Americans have paid record-high prices for oil and gas in the year 2005.

~Kenny Marchant

Yet while on my trip to the Middle East, the London bombings occurred. This was yet another stark reminder that if we don't fight terrorists abroad, they just get closer to our home.

~Kenny Marchant

Make big plans, but change your plans as time changes.
